Foreword

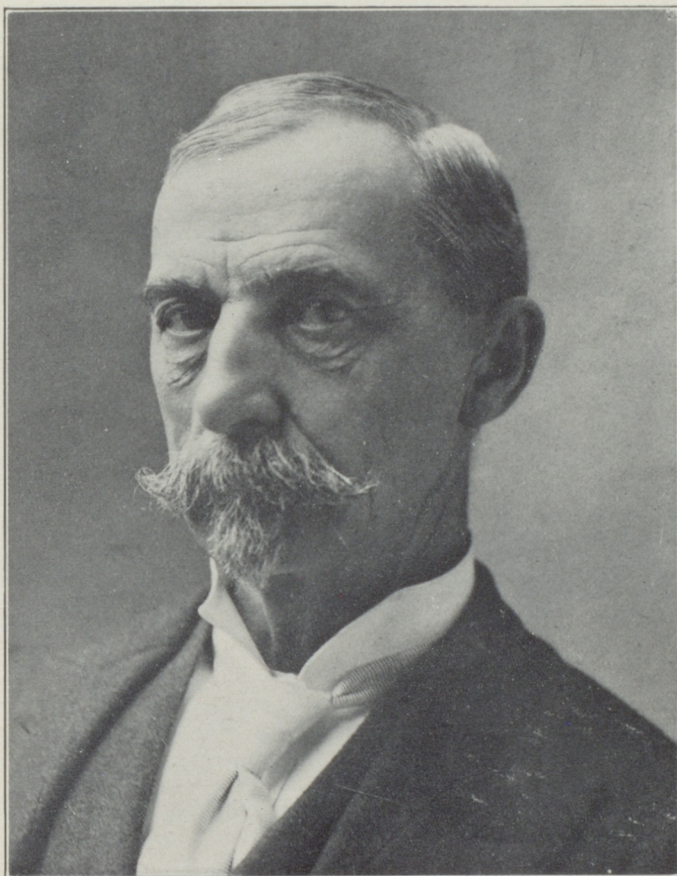

Hillyard has become Rogers, the Panther is now a Pirate, but the students have the same school spirit. They are ever willing to cooperate in making our school worthy to bear the name John R. Rogers.

After one semester in the new building, even more appreciated is the work done in the old home to make school life attractive. The work spent in making a success of the bond issue makes the John R. Rogers only a greater haven of rest. Having worked and waited, its students are even more ready to take advantage of the opportunities presented.

In anticipation of the pleasures to be enjoyed in reading the pages of this annual, at present and the fond memories of your high school days in years to come, those who have worked to make it a success can only hope that the reader will receive as much pleasure from his copy of the "Treasure Chest" as the staff has had in presenting it to you.

John R. Rogers

To the memory of John R. Rogers, in life an inspiration to all who knew him, and who, through his passage of the "bare-foot schoolboy law," has carved his name on the pages of history of the State of Washington, we, the staff, dedicate this 1932 edition of the Treasure Chest.

A large, ornate scroll-shaped frame that encloses the entire memorial text. The frame has a decorative top with a central crest, and the sides are formed by two large, stylized scroll handles. The bottom of the frame also features a decorative scroll element.

Our Leaders

Mr. Jinnett

Mr. Meyer

Every pirate ship owes much of its success to its leader and his assistant. On the ship John R. Rogers, principal J. D. Meyer and vice principal E. R. Jinnett furnish the same inspiration to the students that is given the pirates by their leaders.

The position of our executives is more difficult than the average reader imagines. With so many different types of individuality to deal with, a different method of approach must be made to each.

Being called down to the Captain's cabin is a real privilege on this pirate ship, for instead of a reprimand, it generally means a little talk with one of the executives, perhaps asking his advice on student subjects or advising him on planning his high school career. Many a discouraged member of the pirate crew is kept from leaving the ship through just one of these little talks. He is given new encouragement, a reason to finish his education.

Our principal and vice principal have proved themselves true friends to the student body. They have been comrades to whom the students may take their troubles and get valuable advice and help.

The Office

Behind counter: Sylvia Morris, Thea Mae Culverwell, Margaret Roberts, Helen Carson, Melva Harris, Jean Miller.
Near clock: Lucille Moran, Margaret Olson.
At counter: Miss Strobridge, Mr. Jinnett, Mr. Meyer.
At desk: Louise Christianson.
At typewriter: Bill Kirschke.

To a passer-by, the office of the John R. Rogers high school may not seem to be a very busy place. The reason for this is that there is more room to place material, thus avoiding a disorderly appearance. Miss Strobridge and Miss Howard preside over this sanctum, and Mr. Meyer and Mr. Jinnett have private offices of their own.

In the office are located a switchboard, two working desks, files, typing table, the clock which controls the bell system, and individual boxes for the teachers.

Beneath the counter are shelves and cupboard space. The ditto machine is also located in the office. Each period of the day there is a girl who tends the switchboard and runs errands for the office. When the public address system is installed, one may sit in the office and speak, his voice being heard throughout the entire building.

For the convenience of those unruly pirates who spend a great deal of time in the office, a row of chairs may be seen.

Second Semester Student Leaders

Upper row: Blanche Cariveau, president, Girls' League; Boyer Bogenreif, president Boys' Federation; Melva Harris, editor of Treasure Chest.

Lower row: Evelyn Guay, 1st scholarship honors; James Grant, editor Rogers' Record and runner up in 2nd honors; Elizabeth Clarke, 2nd scholarship honors; Hugh Allen, president senior class and president Student Council.

To gain a place on the Senior Honor Roll, the student must maintain an average of 90 or above throughout his high school career. The class which will receive diplomas in June has contributed 29 to this honor list. Evelyn Guay received highest scholarship honors, with Elizabeth Clarke second, and James Grant a very close third. In many of the grades there was a difference of but a few hundredths of a point, thus making it difficult to determine the first and second honors.

The following students have maintained this average of 90 or above and are arranged in order of their scholarship standing:

Evelyn Guay	Lola Jones
Elizabeth Clarke	Ruth Qualls
James Grant	Frank Palmer
Earl Bentz	Della Katke
Melva Harris	Jean Miller

The January Seniors as Freshmen (Annual 1927)

The June Class as Freshmen (Annual 1928)

12B Class

First row: Helen Odegard, Elizabeth Baumgartner, Dorothy Ringus, Olene Summers, Ethel Thorson, Marie Vermillion, Thelma Nelson, Theresa Perry, Leola Higgins, Hazel Wilson, Dorothy Innes, Patricia Haggart, Virginia Penney.

Second row: Lois Davis, Margaret Mildes, Henry Wakeley, Paul Hankel, Art Kroske, Halvard Nygren, Carl Peterson, Clarence Miller, Jessie Burgess, Marry Katahira.

Third row: Oren Burrill, Davis Altwater, Lawrence Rolstead, Bill McVey, Henry Phillips.

An example of cooperative energy rather than individual fame is the 12B class. In spite of this fact, many of its members have achieved distinction. Since this pirate band began its development as steerage passengers, it has shown splendid spirit and high ideals.

Not even the sudden change from the sleek and slinking panther to the bold, blood-thirsty pirate has succeeded in ruffling its calm. They, too, went on their way, singing and laughing from deck to deck of the ship.

The old saying that "variety is the spice of life" proves correct when applied to this class, for its members have entered many and varied ship activities. Four among its ranks have become members of the National Honor Society. These titled members are: Elizabeth Baumgartner, Tom Meranda, Virginia Penney and Thelma Nelson.

Girls' sports claim a number of the pirate maidens. Theresa Perry, Marie Vermillion, Ethel Thorsen and Margaret Kelly are active in this line. Boys' sports claim Hal and Don Jones and Tom Meranda.

Roger Venti and Patricia Haggart are active in the journalism department, working on the Rogers Record. In the art department, Chester Priano stands out. He has been of great service to the school in making signs to advertise school plays, cons and various other activities.

President	Thelma Nelson
Vice President	Frank Chambers
Secretary and Treasurer	Leola Higgins
Student Council Representative	Chester Priano
Boys' Federation Representative	Gerald Miller

11A Class

Second row: Bill Foley, Gerda Eskeberg, Jack Weisleman, Nick Julian, Dean Leete, Jean Tuveson, Clara Strand, Emma Larson, Grace Estey, Ila Main, Herb Dailey, Frank Johnson, Elton Dickens, Leonard Nelson.

Fourth row: Robert Buckley, Charles Winnington, Woodrow Hooper, Bud Miller, Jimmy Hood, Al Merchant, Helen Eaton, Lottie Abrams, Esther Wendell, Jeannette Boissoneau, Cleo Green, Rema Kaech.

Other classes need to watch out for their laurels and take heed to this class. Do not several of its members hold some of the highest and most coveted positions in the school? The two Simpson sisters are good examples of this fact, Mildred being president and Edith being vice president of the Girls' League. Edith Simpson, Francis McGrath and Jeanne Tuveson are members of the National Honor Society.

The president of the Boys' Federation, Royer Bogenreif, may also be found in the ranks of these third grade pirates. Royer, Bob Russell, Bob Buckley and Gene Whitney have also proved themselves well adapted to sports, having helped the old Hillyard eleven battle its way to victory and "upset the dope bucket" of Spokane's sport writers.

Gerda Eskeberg, Martha Miller, Irene Bye and Thelma Harris form the string quarter of the high school orchestra. Cleo Green and Ethel Haworth are active in the musical productions of the ship and Evelyn Meranda has provided dance numbers for convocations.

Included in girls' athletics are: Lottie Abrams, Gerda Eskeberg, Helen Cooper, Dorothy Innes, Almeada Pyne and Emma Stempel. The 11A basketball team won interscholastic championship this year.

Vivian Stuart, Rema Kaech, Jeannette Boissoneau and Ellen Denman are active in the Art club. Nothing need be said about the spirit of this class, for it is self-evident.

OFFICERS

President	Royer Bogenreif
Vice President	Mildred Simpson
Secretary and Treasurer	Mary Summers
Boys' Federation Representative	Francis McGrath

11B Class

Second row: Helen Anderson, Leota Brown, John Kludt, Eddie Johnson, Melva Davis, Margaret Olson, Wanda Dawson, Nellie Vanderwert, Beatrice Cutler, Melba Dearing, Linnea Olson, Lucille Richter.

Third row: Bill McKee, Jim Learn, Ed Bergen, John Perry, Roger Venti, Lou Minnetti.

Fourth row: Dan Frank, Adolph Bogenreif, Joe Shauvin, Vernal Moberly.

Wide awake and ready to take advantage of every opportunity which may present itself, the 11B class has proved a source of talent and energy for activities which comprise a large part of school life. From the old Hillyard High this group brought an enviable record. In its ranks may be found some of the most famous pirates on the ship.

The well known vocal trio, composed of Virginia Jones, Helen Anderson and Leota Brown, has appeared in convocations and was a part of the Funne Fayre. Helen is also in the orchestra. Evelyn Chambers, Lucille Gumm and Daniel Frank have been brought to the public eye in the field of dramatics, having been active in the Junior Dramatic club before becoming too old and dignified to remain members.

Eugene West and Ed Bergen stand out in boys' athletics and Josephine Bruna, Lois Babcock, Thelma Ellis, Opal Maxfieldfi Mary Wakeley and Evelyn Pogreba are among those who star for the girls. The 11B volleyball team, then 10A, won the championship in the interscholastic tournament.

The names of every prominent student in this cabin cannot be mentioned, but, from all evidences, an active career can be predicted for this class for the remaing three semesters in high school.

OFFICERS

President	Ed Bergen
Vice President	Fred Betts
Secretary and Treasurer	Marie Ramey

10A Class

Second row: Ralph Birdsong, Walter Krogel, George Dieter, Hazel Abrams, Dorothy Freeborg, Avis Anderson, Amy Dickens, Carol Coffman, Muriel Sontag, Merle Roberston, Agnes Larson, Lorraine Goodwin, Thomas Mortenson, Herman Coleman.

Third row: Arlene Peterson, Ardyce Davisson, Ilda Rutherford, Norma Cran, Jane Thomas, June Davis, Margaret Pierce, Agnes Nelson, Lucille Bonner, Helen Learn, Henry Berg.

Fourth row: Ralph Scott, Inez Sjostrom, Doris Peterson, Edna Scott, Eleanor Deegan, Cora Fritz, Agnes Loskot, Maxine Concie, Thelma Hammer, Evelyn Koenig, Mildred Mercer, Rispa Ringo, Georgia McDaniel, Virginia Gassow, Doris Frost, Lenora Haman, Mayme Welsh, Robert Amel.

In accord with the mental development of this group of students, its members have by this time discovered what particular talent may be theirs and have accordingly entered these fields.

Dramatics, sports and music have claimed a share in bringing distinction to as worthy a group of pirates as have ever sailed the seven seas. Perhaps Zelda Pritchard will be seen in years to come in the same capacity as Ann Harding is today. Judging from her work in "Captain Applejack," Rogers high expects her to do great things in the dramatic and musical worlds.

The Junior Dramatic club has gained a large portion of its recruits from this class. Lucille Bonner, Virginia Jellison, Carol Coffman and the above mentioned Zelda Pritchard, have proved themselves valuable assets to this junior club of the sloop. Not only girls, but boys are represented in this club. Among them are: Henry Berg and Harold Tres.

Feminine members of this class have entered the athletic fields. Among them are: Dorothy Freeborg, Carol Coffman, Phyllis Henderson, Norma Cran, Jane Thomas and Mildred Mercer, who are examples of the talent contained in this class. Avalon and LaVelle Bender are active in the school orchestra and band.

This class needs no urging; it has the qualities which makes it possible to take matter into its own hands, and, with the cooperative efforts of the class, make them a success.

OFFICERS

President	Henry Berg
Vice President	Thomas Mortinson
Secretary and Treasurer	Jane Thomas
Student Council Representative	Roger Olin
Boys' Federation Representative	Harold Cox

10B Class

First row: Mabel Barber, Louada Harris, Alvera Glendenning, Marlyne Matlock, Eva Wood, Helen Renfro, Frances Cowles, Louis Cameron, Helen Merchant, Carne Haugen, Eloise Henderson, Marion Hodgson, Ewing Irwin, Eugene Richardson.

Second row: Sylvia Wendell, Geneva Johnston, Doris Parker, Frances Littell, Della Hinshaw, Doris Casey, Ulonda Perry, Maud Thorson, Esther Thormsgard, Bertha Wallace, Marjorie Hamaker, Mary Shaw, Tressie Julian.

Third row: Maynard Hunt, Taylor Richard, Dixon Meyers, Chester Quorm, Reg Wold, Clifford Brown, Lawrence Northquist, Steven Piper, Carl Moberly, Leo Haines.

To prove that we were not wrong in our estimate of their worth as freshmen, this class has forged ahead in fulfillment of the great things in store for it. Its members represent one of the highest types of school spirit present in school.

For having been in high school only a year and a half, this class has representatives in a remarkable number of fields. In freshman football, members of this class proved themselves hard to beat. Dodge Dean and Paul Ewing are good examples of this fact. Jack Ramey is outstanding in lower class boxing.

Not only does this class shine in athletics, but some of the active members of the Junior Dramatic club are also found in this class. Among them are: Jack Dassow, Walter Kroske, Helen Merchant, Naomi Peters and Dorothy Ahlin. Virginia Lee Elsdon is pianist for the Girls' League orchestra.

Girls of the class produced peppy basketball and volleyball teams. Found on the teams were: Doris Casey, Ulonda Perry, Ione Gamble, Myrtle Valsvig, Marjorie Hamaker, Della Hinshaw and Eloise Henderson.

The Girls' League and Boys' Federation have received some of their most loyal supporters from this class. This group has, on the whole, set a high mark for its successors to follow.

9A Class

First row: Wanda Taveres, Elva Johnson, Dorothy Bates, Vonda McMillan, Arlene Nelson, Marjory Larson, Maxine Cumming, Thea Mae Culverwell, Wilma Bateman, Hazel Bille, Bernice Shordon, Jean Signerelli, Howard Knagg, Jimmie Smith, Philip Frost, Orville Forgey, Wilder Peterson.

Second row: Thomas O'Brien, Helen Schindler, Betty Foster, Delnore Hopkins, Mabel Haynes, Frances Kimball, Chloe Ellen Keeler, Stella Blancher, Lenora De Luzio, Mary Julian, Ruth Gokey, Anita Henderson, Wanda Clarkston, Virginia Chambers, Marie Proffenroth, Kenneth Nellson, Virgil Kalhagen, Allan Stokke.

Third row: Walter Stout, Helen Linden, Earl Douglas, Ruth Stuart, Hazel Wickwire, Georgia Hafner, Rosie Moran, Helen Maloney, Virginia Massie, Bonita Gooch, Alice Barnes, Joyce Lyarger, Florence Youngman.

Fourth row: Henry Freeman, Richard Case, Arthur Charles, Roy Webb, Leo Burdick, Stella Kelly, Gertrude Benish, Astri Larson, Anna Mildes, Kathryn Holland, Lorena Wilson, Betty June Johnson, Sylvia Morris, Vera Seiver, Crystal Frank, Willametta Johnston.

What more besides talent, pep and a good school spirit, does a class need to make a success of its high school life? Although starting high school only last September, this class has become known for its willingness to help and its ability to stand on its own feet.

The Junior Dramatic club has attracted several of its members, among them are: Joe Wolferman, Jean McConnell, Vonda McMillan, Phronie Hooper, Lynn Drake and Thea Mae Culverwell. Marjorie Larson was listed for a leading roll in the opera presented this spring.

Girls' athletics has obtained some of its most promising prospects from this class. Perhaps in years to come Alice Barnes, Willametta Johnson, Crystal Frank, and Anita Henderson will be as well known in G. A. C. as "Gin" Cran, Cora Mead, Annette Dube, Vivian Olson and Marie Gilberry, who knows? We do know that both the volleyball and the basketball teams which this class contributed to interscholastic tournaments have proved themselves able to take defeat and victory in true sportsman spirit.

This class claims two of the tallest boys in school, namely Bill Snow and Harvey Taylor. If a freshman class can produce boys the size of some of its present students, what prospects for a football team.

OFFICERS

President	Jack Whitney
Vice President	Virgil Kalhagen
Secretary and Treasurer	Virginia Chambers
Student Council Representative	Dorothy Bates
Boys' Federation Representative	Art Charles
Yell Leader	Dolly McGrath

9B Class

First row: Genevieve McCaulley, Anna Belle Pierce, Dorothy Ruark, Mildred Cox, Beverly Beach, Edwardeen Mustard, Betty Russell, Grace Walker, Opal Morse, Sarah Fjelstad, Gerald Baker, Juanita Evans, Thelma Brown, Ellen Dickover, Amy Johnston, Mary Corigliano, Stelia Foshein.

Second row: William Burnett, Jack Lovejoy, Francis Tripp, Noel Dickens, Irving Summers, Kenneth Roberts, Evelyn McIntosh, Mable Bergen, Ella Strand, Gladys Granberg, Nellie Betts, Audrey Edwards, Mary Rubright, Gail Warner, Steven McComas, Ethel Thornes, Lillian Bro, Ellwood Amsbury, Irving Gibbs, David Peers, Garth Botts.

Although entering John R. Rogers only last February, this class has shown the rest of the student body that it has talent, pep, and that it can hold its own against any other freshman class ever entering the school.

If the reader will search a bit, he will find the smallest and youngest girl in school in this class. Her name is Opal Mors and she is only twelve years old. She and Oren Killin have given the rest of the class a good example in that they have tried out and gained admission to the Junior Dramatic club.

As yet the talent which is contained in this class has not had time to manifest itself, but from all evidence, the Footlights and Junior Dramatic clubs will find it a source of new material.

This class has entered into the spirit of the high school, and it obviously intends to keep this spirit alive and to uphold the standards which have been observed in the past. It is to these freshmen that the school must look for its future leaders. With such an abundance of talent and school spirit in their midst, new goals are expected to be set.

The Pirates

First row: Norma Lee DeLong, Opal Mors, Wilma Jean Pierce, Second row: Thea MaeCulverwell, Sylvia Morris, Ruth Qualls, Patricia Haggart, Margaret Roberts, Bill Kirschke, Elizabeth Northrop, Jean Miller,
 Marie Gilbery, Lucille Moran, Dean Leete, Jack McPhee, Cleo Green, Bill Vradenburg, Elsa Beck, Don Ficca, Grace Estey, Jean Cochran, Karel

 Third row: Jean Foster, Dorothy Huss, Louise Christianson, Marjorie Joyner, Bernice Harvey, Ray Parker, Virginia Cran, Lyle Stough, Carl Sandstrom, Helen Carson, Melva Harris, David Altwater.

On April 1 a blustering pirate king, peppy pirate maidens and more pirates made their appearances in Rogers high. The event which brought them hither was a pay con put on by the members of the annual staff.

Poor Willie, who forgot his galoshes when he was shipwrecked and who had the affliction of sneezing at the most inopportune moments, saved his head only through the infatuation of the pirate king's sister.

The heroine is delighted with the pirates and she succeeds in softening the king's savage heart. Of course the whole affair ends happily with the pirate maidens winning the would-be hero, and the American girl falling in love with the king.

The leading parts were: Pirate king, Jack McPhee; his sister, Elsa Beck; would-be hero, Billy Vradenburg; heroine, Cleo Green; and more pirates, both girls and boys of the "Treasure Chest" staff.

Art Club

First row: Ellen Denman, Beth Noben, Bernard Gillingham, Chester Priano, Thelma Nelson, Jeannette Boissoneau.

Second row: Rema Kaech, Lola Jones, Vivian Stuart, Helen Carson, Cecil Johnson, Melvin Westerdahl, Mr. Hughes, art instructor.

Third row: Evelyn Pogreba, Winnifred Johnson, Frank Chambers, Mildred Helseth, Earl Bentz, James Grant, Donald Wallace.

One of the treasures of the "Treasure Chest" is the Art club, which was organized in September, 1927, by Mr. Hughes, art instructor. Few members leave except for graduation and it is therefore quite difficult to obtain membership in this club.

To become a member, a student must hand in some of his own art work which is judged by the members with the other entries. The person trying out is then voted on by the members of the group. This club takes charge of all posters and advertisements for operettas and covections presented by the Pirates of John R. Rogers.

The Art club sponsored the Puppet play, and they presented the first pay con in the new building. The con was one which it is believed all the students enjoyed. Several parties are held during the year's voyage for the students who have succeeded in gaining admittance into the club.

The new members elected during the last semester are: Earl Bentz, Cecil Johnson, Winnifred Johnson, Evelyn Pogreba, Don Wallace and Melvin Westerdahl.

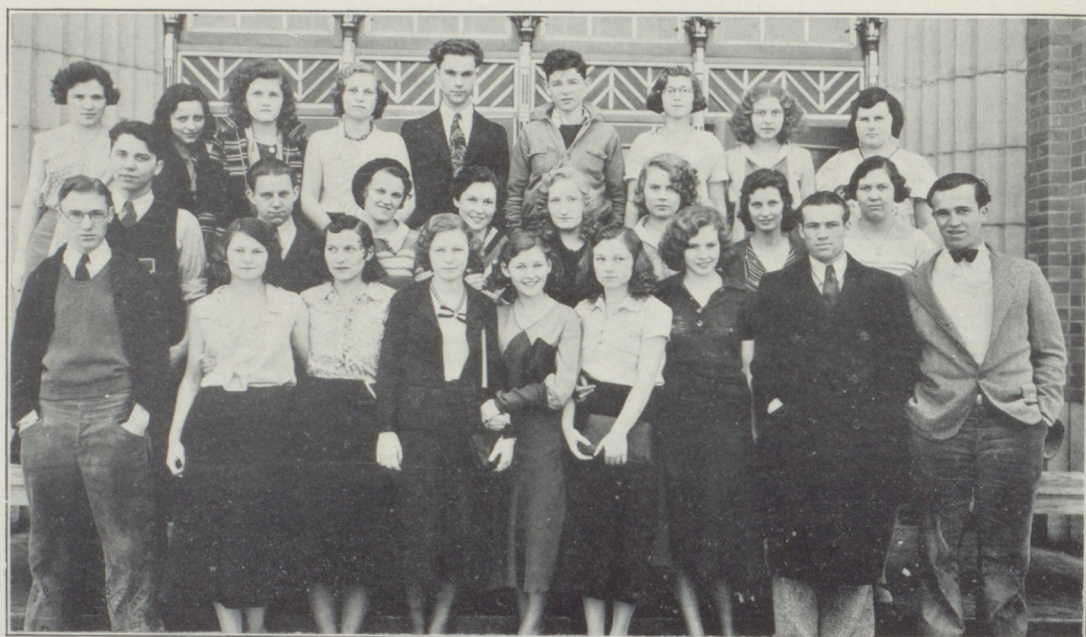

The officers during the current year are, first semester:

President Margaret McClenahen
Vice President John Anderson
Secretary Mary Katahira

Officers for the second semester are:

President Bernard Gillingham
Vice President Beth Noben
Secretary Chester Priano

What would a pirate ship do without a "Treasure Chest?" The most trustworthy pirates are chosen as guardian of the chest. The position is coveted by the rest of the mates on board.

Every Tuesday morning these trusted few collect coins from the rest of the pirate crew and deposit it under the individual's name. Slips and "pieces of eight" are taken to the pirate king's cabin (the office) from which they are sent to the island of the buried treasure (Spokane Savings and Loan).

The goal of 100% is the endeavor of every banker. First period rooms vie with each other in this ship activity as in contests regarding the ship's log (Rogers Record) and the drive for Red Cross.

Names of the custodians of the "Treasure Chest" are as follows.

Cabin	Guardian
207	Florence Poffenroth
217	Earl Bentz and Louise Picton

Funne Faire

Due to the reception of last year's Funne Faire, it is destined to become an annual event. The production represents the united effort of The Girls' League and the Boys' Federation.

Two one-act plays, "The Last Straw" and "X Marks the Spot" were presented. The former was based upon the efforts of a daughter, played by Florence Gorwell, to persuade her father, Henry Phillips, to abandon his old straw hat. Her lover, Charles Claymon, appeared on the scene, and Smilin' Sam, Chester Campbell, was employed to get rid of the hat. The climax of the play proved to be a hit with the audience.

"X Marks the Spot" was a dialogue in a railway resturant. The girl, Beth Noben, met the boy,

Frank Chambers, and together they tried to discover the guilty party in a contest murder. The conclusion and protests of the waitress, Gerda Eskeberg, when the two rehearse the circumstances of the murder, attracted the policeman, Al Johnstone, who entered the scene in his sternest manner.

The biggest part of the program consisted of "A Night in Paris," in which was pictured a French cabaret which was visited by an American family. Their small-town talk, when combined with the tangoes and vocal selections presented for their entertainment have been called one of the best bits of comedy presented this year.

Flower girls, French waiters, and tango dancers provided thrilling entertainment.

Boys' Federation Council

First row: Gerald Miller, Francis McGrath, Al Kiefer, Royer Bogenreif, Harold Cox, Jack Dassow.
Second row: Ronald Camp, Hugh Allen, Harold Jones, Gene Whitney, Mr. Byrne, Rudy Voisholler.

The Boys' Federation was first organized in the old Hillyard high in May, 1927, and the officers for the fall term were then elected as follows: president, Sam Yancey; vice president, Pete Poffenroth; secretary, Harold Morrison; treasurer, Archie Bauer; clerk, William Roble.

It has been understood ever since its beginning that a boy automatically becomes a member upon enrolling in school. Its purpose has always been to encourage competent leadership, social responsibility, and cooperative activity, embracing all the members, for increasing personal efficiency, both in the school and the community.

Committees were organized in 1927-28 and the real work began. A convocation put on by them brought in $50.00 to apply on the track at Harmon field, and a play was given for the children of the Washington Home at Christmas time in 1927.

The officers for the spring semester of 1927-28 were Charles De Vange, Owen Picton, Everett Jones and Milt Rieman. Again a con was given and the money turned over to Harmon field. During 1928, both the hall patrol and the paddle squad were formed.

For 1929 the officers were: Eric McDavis, Bill Haney, Les Hebert, and Dutch Shubbe, with Mr. A. P. Coburn as faculty advisor. During their term a successful campaign was made towards the cleaning up of the old school grounds and the cons that were given went over big. This year also marked the beginning of the fire squad.

During 1930-31 the traffic squad and a committee for helping in the study hall were organized. The second Father and Sons' mixer was held in February, 1931. The following officers were elected for this year: Armonde Albo, Frank Henry, Al Kiefer, Paul Ratsch, Tate Umberger, Howard Kroske and Robert Wakely. Mr. L. T. Byrne was the faculty advisor.

The officers for the fall semester of 1931-32 were: Al Kiefer, Royer Bogenreif, Lyle Stough and Robert Wakely. During this term the Knights of the Federation was organized with the object of furnishing help to any boy in trouble and, if possible, to keep him out of it.

For the first semester in the new John R. Rogers high school the following boys are in office: President, Royer Bogenreif; vice president,

Girls' League Council

First row: Helen Anderson, Adele Leonard, Blanche Cariveau, Louise Christianson, Gerda Eskeberg, Edith Simpson, Marie Gilbery.

Second row: Jeanne Tuveson, Elizabeth Northrop, Genevieve Zinkgraf, Florence Van Dusen, Helen Carson, Marjorie Jones, Ruth Qualls.

Third row: Miss McMahan, Miss Stevens, Miss Barger, Miss Finnegan, Miss Robinson, school nurse; Miss Budwin.

The Girls' League of Rogers high school was organized in 1921 under the direction of Miss Evelyn Pickeral. It was patterned after the North Central Girls' League. The advisors and presidents since the beginning of the League are as follows:

1921—President Rhoda Anderson
 Advisor Miss Pickeral (Mrs. Fraser)
 1922—President Elsie Phillips
 Advisor Miss Pickeral
 1923—President Bernice Wheatley
 Advisor Bertha Boehme
 1924—Presidents
 Elizabeth Herbert and Hazel Holder
 Advisor Mrs. Litscher
 1925—Presidents
 Namoi Walker (Mrs. Johnson), Ruth
 Miller (Mrs. Robert Bucklan)
 Advisor Mrs. Van Austin
 1926—President
 Florence Wright (Mrs. Charles U'Ren)
 Advisor Mrs. Van Austin
 1927—President Cecelia Stevenson
 Advisor Miss Harmon

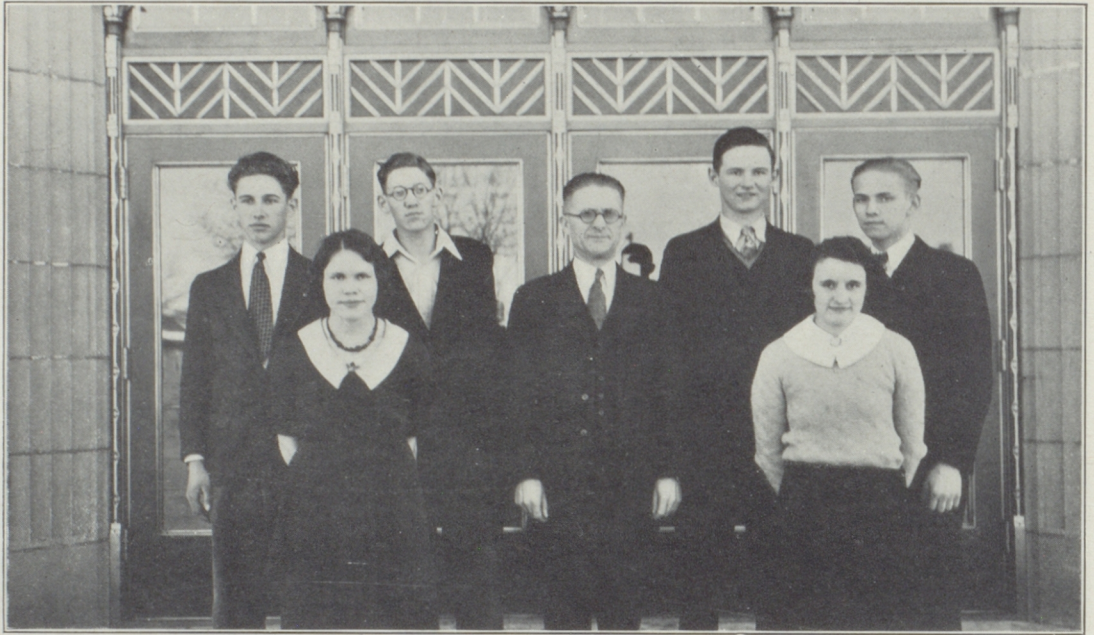

1928—Presidents
 Roberta Hood, Alene Sandstrom
 Advisor Mrs. Kapek
 1929—Presidents Frances Hicks, Thelma Trone
 Advisor Miss Finnegan
 1930—Presidents
 Katherine Hurd, Katherine Youngman
 Advisor Miss Finnegan
 1931—Presidents
 Evelyn Irwin, Leona Rudy, Adele Leonard
 Advisor Miss Finnegan
 1932—Presidents
 Blanche Cariveau, Mildred Simpson
 Advisor Miss Finnegan

In 1927 when Miss Harmon was advisor of the Girls' League, the entertainment department gave a tea for the Girls' League Council, and helped with the annual carnival. The Social Service department sponsored the Washington Children's Home project, and the Personal Efficiency department devoted its time to efforts in sports

AFFIRMATIVE
Grace Jacobs, Hugh Allen, Al Johnstone.

NEGATIVE
Alverna Albo, Karel Weghamp, Jack Waller.
Coach: Mr. Jinnett

Debate is one of the oldest and most successful activities of the school. In 1912, the year the old Hillyard high school building was constructed, the school turned out a winning team, but no exact record was kept until 1923 when Mrs. Morrison took over the coaching of the team.

In 1925 the Harvard club offered a beautiful silver cup as the permanent possession of the school which should first win the city championship three times in five years. It was in that year that Hillyard won its first championship of the five year series. In 1926 and 1927 the Hillyard team lost to Lewis and Clark, but in '26 they won the Spokane country championship and the following year they won the Northeast district title.

In 1927 Mr. Jinnett took over the coaching of the teams.

Hillyard's team proved victorious for the next two years and thus secured the cup for our school.

A second cup was offered in 1930 and will be presented to the school which first wins four championships. The last two years at Hillyard and the first at John R. Rogers have proved victorious and only one championship is needed to bring another cup to our school.

It is with pride that we look back on the last few years of our school history and see that we have built for ourselves the tradition of having the best debate teams in the district. For five successive years we have claimed city championship and the titles were not few previous to this.

This year the question for debate was: Resolved, That chain stores are detrimental.

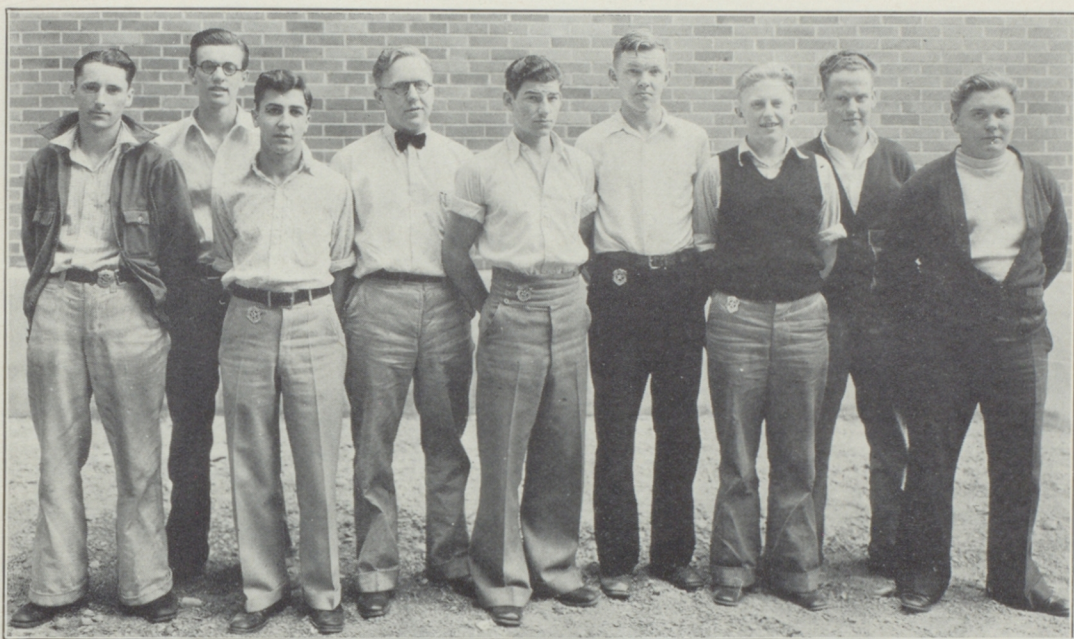

Schools debated this year were: Newport, Ritzville, Deer Park, Lewis and Clark, North Central and Yakima.

The teams are:

Affirmative—Al Johnston, Hugh Allen, Grace Jacobs. Negative—Alverna Albo, Karel Wegkamp, Jack Waller.

Fire Squad

As the fire bell rings and we start to march from the building, several students may be noticed stationed in the corridors and at doors to keep the line moving quickly and orderly. These students compose the fire squad.

Although in the new building, the danger of fire is not so great as in the old school, which was regarded as a fire hazard, still the squad is an important factor in school life, since it is a law of the State of Washington to hold one of these drills every two weeks.

Last year during Fire Prevention Week, the members of the squad were presented with badges by the Spokane fire chief. The group is conducted in much the same order as the city fire department; it has its chief, its assistants and other members of the squad. During the first semester Al Falkner was fire chief and Dan Fleming his assistant. Dan Fleming is now chief and Ed Weber his assistant.

Footlights Club

First row: Leonard Nelson, Helen Anderson, Virginia Jones, Lottie Abrams, Thelma Harris, Elizabeth Northrop, Joy Hartlerode, Elizabeth Clarke, Howard Ranniger, Gerda Eskeberg, Jack McPhee, Beth Noben, Marvin DeChenne, Mr. Purdy.

Second row: Frank Chambers, James Grant, Hugh Allen, Dean Leete, Joe Haygood, Melvin Ellis, Dan Frank, Florence Poffenroth, Al Johnstone.

As the membership is limited to 12 boys and 12 girls, it is quite an honor to become a member of the Footlights club. Since its organization six years ago under Mr. J. L. Purdy's leadership, the club has attracted an abundance of outstanding talent.

Twice a year the dramatic department presents a play. "Icebound" and "Captain Applejack" were put on this year. Although all-school affairs, the productions claimed a number of the Footlights' members.

In the Funne Fayre, a one-act comedy, "X Marks the Spot," was a product of its talent. The circumstances under which the murderer was to be discovered brought peals of laughter from the audience. Beth Noben and Frank Chambers were the characters.

Each member of the club aids in selling tickets to the productions. The club has its own orchestra: Elizabeth Northrop, Joy Hartlerode, Howard Ranniger, Thelma Harris, Jack McPhee, and Marvin DeChenne. Shortly after the beginning of the semester the club presented a free con with the aid of its own orchestra.

Pretty girls', handsome boys and peppy music combine in making this club an asset to the school. Members of the club are: Leonard Nelson, Lottie Abrams, Howard Ranniger, Virginia Jones, Thelma Harris, Helen Anderson, Elizabeth Clarke, Thelma Nelson, James Grant, Beth Noben, Joe Haygood, Hugh Allen, Frank Chambers, Patricia Haggart, Joy Hartlerode, Elizabeth Northrop, Jack McPhee, Harold Stevens, Florence Poffenroth, Gerda Eskeberg, Dan Frank, Mel Ellis, Dean Leete, and Jack Waller.

Officers for the first semester are:

President	Harold Stevens
Vice President	Louis Erickson
Secretary	Elixabeth Northrop

Officers for second semester are:

President	Beth Noben
Vice President	Frank Chambers
Secretary	Gerda Eskeberg

Captain Applejack

"Sh-hhh-hh, do you hear what I hear? It sounds like mutiny. Keep to your posts, men, while I go and investigate." I crept forward, and—guess what I saw: a Chinese creeping up behind a fierce, blood-thirsty pirate. Suddenly the chief whirled and sent the creature flying from the room.

"Wait a minute. Put a little more action into it. You couldn't scare anyone with that." The words came from a man, dressed in civilian clothes who had just arrived on the scene. Crouching behind a screen and watching with terrified eyes, I tried to make myself as small as possible. Suddenly light dawned upon me. This was the cast for "Captain Applejack" rehearsing with Mr. J. L. Purdy as the director.

Ambrose, seized with the desire for romance and adventure, placed his home in the hands of a real estate agent who created a fake map of a hidden treasure as a drawing card. Ambrose's adventure with a Russian dancer and Penguard, a famous crook, offered much speculation as to the outcome of the play.

The cast:

Lush	Lou Ray Maine
Poppy Faire	Gwen Donnan
Mrs. Agatha Whitcombe	Helen Anderson
Ambrose Applejohn	Jack Waller
Anna Valeska	Zelda Pritchard
Mrs. Penguard	Helene Eaton
Horace Penguard	Frank Chambers
Ivan Borolsky	Charles Killin
Palmer	Thelma Nelson
Dennet	Leonard Nelson
Johnny Jason	Bill Vradenburg
Pirate crew

Bill Vradenburg, Jack Simonson, Herbert Dailey, Ernest Newman, Henry Freeman, Leonard Nelson.

French Club

First row: Jeanette Boissoneau, Norma Laundry, Joy Hartlerode, Harriet Francis, Jean Cochran, Patricia Haggart, Mary McHarness, Vernette Engebretson, Mildred Simpson, Edith Simpson, Virginia Penny, Annette Dube, Louise Christianson, Helen Anderson.

Second row: Danny Frank, Ed Weber, Harold Hoffman, Karel Wegkamp, Jack Dassow, Charles Petty, Earl Humphries, Norman Noben, Frank Palmer, James Anderson, Marie Gilbery, Marie Ramey.

Third row: Dorothy Innes, Rema Kaeck, Delma Laundry, Gladys Swartz, Mildred Williams, Carol Coffman, Pearl Wagner, Lucille Richter, Freda McGee, Evelyn Chambers, Carnie Haugen, Helen Jean Merchant, Mary Shannon, Vivian Olson, Evelyn Meranda, Lenora Hammond, Miss Rose, club advisor.

Organized in November 1931, the French club has become a permanent fixture in the list of clubs at John R. Rogers. The advisor of the club, "Alliance Francoise," is Miss Helen Rose, who is also the French instructor.

The membership of the club is composed of students who have taken French at least two semesters or who are still enrolled after two semesters. The student wishing admittance must have a grade of "A" or "B" in French and must be passing in all his other subjects.

Members of the club made a portfolio last semester which they sent to France. They have also received several from students in France.

Monday, March 7, after school, the club gave a tea for the teachers of the school. The girls were in French peasant costumes. Officers of the club for the last semester were:

President	Mildred Simpson
Vice President	Lucille Richter
Secretary	Norman Noben
Reporter	Ed Weber

Second semester officers:

President	Vernette Engebretson
Vice President	Helen Anderson
Secretary	Jean Cochran
Reporter	Patricia Haggart

Glee Club

First row: Dean Leete, Ben LaPoint, Evelyn Warnick, Eleanor Deegan, Chloe Ellen Keeler, Earl Glen, Dorothy Nells, Wilna McLaren, Elsa Beck, Marie Vermillion, Henry Freeman, Lloyd Kirschke, Jean McConnell, Bertha Wallace, Lois Davis, Doris Peterson, Mr. Scott.

Third row: Mary Shannon, Edith Miller, Irene Bell, Marjorie Joyner, Clara Dzuik, Mayme Welch, Crystal Frank, Helen Linden, Florence Van Dusen, Ulonda Perry, Doris Parker, Jerry Lloyd, Armola Setser, Lucille Sawl, Mollie Pelnarsh, Fern Usher.

"Yea! we'll find that treasure ch . . ., hush what's that?"

"Music! Why, who are the singers?"

"Cuso, Ruks, sneak up there and investigate."

The two pirates designated crept slowly forward and very quietly stooped at the ventilator and looked into the little theatre.

"Hi-ho, captain, 'tis the jolly pirates' Glee club and Mr. Scott leading the songs."

"Aye, I remember. I used to belong to it, members of that club sang at our baccalaureate and commencement exercises and they give an operetta or its equivalent every semester."

"Do you remember the last one 'Belle of Barcelona' in which the pretty Spanish girl was engaged to a man she didn't love and the young American officer came along and changed things?"

"You mean the one in which Cleo Green played

Margarita and Lytle Van Dusen played the part of Lieutenant Harold Wright?"

"Yes, and Florence Van Dusen was Mercedes Marvin De Chenne was Emitio and Al Falkner played as Captain Cotton. Oh, and Kathryn Poffenroth and Evelyn Chambers, those little girls, played the parts of Dona Marcela and Dona Anita too."

"Aye, Captain and there were three other characters. Jack McPhee played the Irish part as Patrick Malone, Art Kroske was Pedro, and Erma McIntosh was Martha Ayers. It was a very pretty operetta."

"Aye, it was that and I hear they are going to put on 'The H. M. S. Pinafore,' a light opera this semester. Very different from what they have given before . . ."

"Scatter, ye lubbers, there goes the bell."

Harding Debate Club

First row: Helen Haworth, Ethel Haworth, Dwight Goodwin, Max Ward, Melva Harris, Jean Tuveson, Jean Miller, Ruth Qualls, Mrs. Morrison, Harriet Francis, Patricia Haggart, Jean Cochran, Evelyn Meranda, Jeannette Valiquette, Margaret Roberts, Irene Bye.

Second row: Hal Jones, Robert Buckley, Marie Vermillion, Theresa Perry, Dorothy Huss, Virginia Cran, Mary Katahira, Mary Sainton, Laurretta Signorelli, Karel Wegkamp, Jack Waller, Elsa Beck, Cora Mead, Agatha Heflin, Gwen Donnan, Alverna Alb, Cleo Green, Katherine Poffenroth, Hugh Allen.

The Harding Debate club was organized on November 4, 1923. It is one of the very active clubs of "The Treasure Chest." This club sponsored the banner for the school. They also sponsored the organization of the National Honor Society. This club gave $60.00 for the Lincoln Memorial and were also instrumental in getting the painting of John R. Rogers.

The Harding Debate club gives two "pay cons" a year. This year the first con was given January 25. "And the Willin' Still Pursueder" was given at this con. The players were John Kelly, Cleo Green and Kathryn Poffenroth. The theme of the play was the murder of the "Willin'." At the end of the play the "Willin'" was sitting on the floor about to light a cigarette.

The second con was given March 11, with Earl Thomas as master of ceremonies. Al Falkner and Gwen Donnan gave a very clever skit "And So It Goes." This skit showed the quarrels a wife and a husband have over a mother-in-law, and the ways in which they "make up."

On January 27, the Harding Debate club sponsored a banquet in honor of the debaters which was given in the Gold Room of the Dessert hotel. Harold Stevens acted as master of ceremonies.

The new members of the Harding Debate club this year are: Dorothy Swanson, Laurretta, Signorelli, Margaret Roberts, Agatha Heflin, Cora Mead, Max Ward, Elsa Beck, Marie Vermillion, Mary Sainton, Ruth Qualls, Melva Harris, Dwight Goodwin, Hal Jones, Robert Buckley, Al Falkner, Mary Katahira and Norman Noben.

First semester officers:

Second semester officers:

President	Jean Miller
Vice President	Ruth Qualls
Secretary	Jean Tuveson

Home Economics Club

First row: Pearl Wagner, Jeannette Boissoneau, Elizabeth Clarke, Virginia Penney, Edith Simpson, Mildred Simpson, Vivian Olson, Elizabeth Covey, Dorothy Northrop.
 Second row: Elizabeth Northrop, Melba Dearing, Elizabeth Baumgartner, Annette Dube, Norma Cran, June Davis, Dorothy Ringus, Helen Carson.

This band of pirate girls is one of the oldest organizations in the old Hillyard high school and will continue its work under Miss Herrington, at the John R. Rogers.

The purpose of the club is to interest girls in home economics work, and to provide pleasure for other people.

The Good Samaritan's and St. Joseph's Homes were remembered at Thanksgiving with a box of cookies. At Christmas the club joined the other organizations of the school in providing a fitting holiday gift for the Washington Children's Home and giving joy to the orphan children.

The girls honor the faculty members each year with a tea.

A food sale is given each year to raise necessary funds to care for expenses.

The membership in this club is limited to twenty members. New girls are chosen by the girls already in the organization and they must have had either cooking or sewing.

Members of the Home Economics club are:

Elizabeth Baumgartner, Jeanette Boissaneau, Helen Carson, Melba Dearing, Rema Kaech, Margaret McClenahan, Thelma Nelson, Elizabeth Northrop, Dorothy Northrop, Vivian Olson, Virginia Penney, Elizabeth Clarke, Annette Dube, Dorothy Ringus, June Davis, Jane Thomas, Norma Cran, Pearl Wagner, Mildred Simpson, Edith Simpson.

Officers for this year are; first semester:

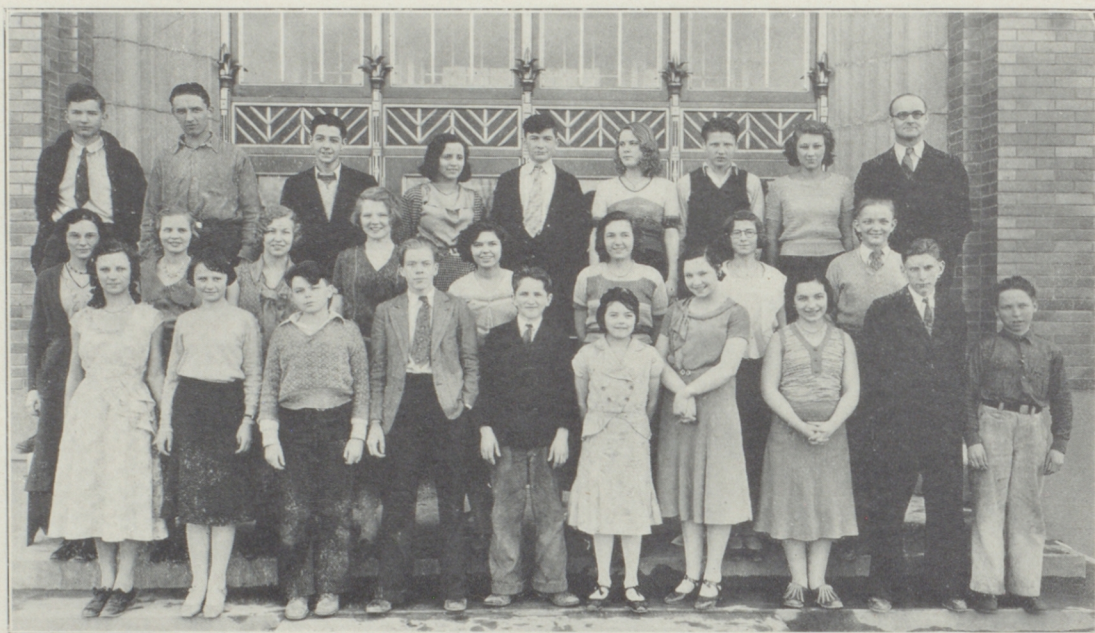

President	Elizabeth Baumgartner
Vice President	Dorothy Northrop
Secretary	Virginia Penny
Treasurer	Helen Carson

Second semester:

President	Edith Simpson
Vice President	Virginia Penny
Secretary	Mildred Simpson
Treasurer	Vivian Olson

Junior Dramatics Club

First row: Vonda MacMillan, Thea Mae Culverwell, Jimmie Smith, Jack Dassow, Ewing Irwin, Opal Mors, Jean McConnell, Carol Coffman, Harold Triese.
 Second row: Virginia Jellison, Lucille Bonner, Zelda Fritchard, Helen Jean Merchant, Lorraine Godwin, Carne Haugen, Phronie Hooper, Henry Freeman.
 Third row: Arnold Hutchins, Eugene Wunderlick, Joe Wolferman, Dorothy Lloyd, Orin Killin, Dorothy Ahlin, Lynn Drake, Naomi Peters, Mr. Hubbard.

Organized in 1929 by Mr. Ray Hubbard for the purpose of training the lower classmen for membership in the Footlights club, this group has proved to be a valuable club, not only for entertainment but for its instruction. On May 6 a play including the one act play, "Who's a Coward," was given by the club. The cast included: Dorothy Lloyd, Oren Killin and Jimmie Smith. Arnold Hutchins played the guitar and a dance number was presented by Vonda McMillan and Joe Wolferman, students of the Calvert School of Dancing.

Every semester new members are taken into the club. Eligibility is based upon the aspirant's ability in dramatics, music, or dancing. Those interested prepare a number for the tryout and are voted upon by the rest of the club. New members taken into the club this spring are: Opal Morse, Henry Freeman, Carne Haugen, Arnold Hutchins, Joe Wolferman, Vonda McMillan, Jimmie Smith, Oren Killin, Phronie Hooper, Dorothy Ahlin and Thea Mae Culverwell.

The old members are: Carol Coffman, Lorraine Goodwin, Dorothy Lloyd, Virginia Jellison, Helen Merchant, Ewing Irwin, Harold Tres, Melvin Lewis, Henry Berg, Lucille Bonner, Jack Dassow, Lynn Drake, Jean McConnell, Naomi Peters, Zelda Pritchard, Francis Stewart and Eugene Wunderlick.

Officers for the first semester were:

President Carol Coffman
 Vice President Virginia Jellison
 Secretary and Treasurer Virginia Jones

Officers for second semester are:

President Jack Dassow
 Vice President Jean McConnell
 Secretary and Treasurer Ewing Irwin

Knights of the Federation

Second row: Earl Bentz, Hugh Allen, Bob Jarvis, Jack Waller, Bob Russell, Chester Priano, Frank Chambers.

One of the newest clubs in the school is the Knights of the Federation. This group was brought together and organized during the last semester in the old Hillyard high school for the purpose of helping boys who got into trouble, to help boys to keep from getting into trouble, and to keep order in the study halls and corridors.

The membership was at first limited to sixteen members, but, because of the increased enrollment of the new school, the limit has been raised to twenty. Active P. G. members are carried out of the membership limit. There is now one vacant place.

Only boys in the two upper classes are eligible for membership. The charter members are: Al Falkner, Hal Jones, Charles Killin, Bill Kirschke, Jim Penney, Earl Bentz, Dan Fleming, Tom Smith, Lyle Stough, Al Kiefer, Harold Stevens, Ray Parker, James Grant, John Anderson, Fred Casten and Royer Bogenreif.

Librarians

At the Desk: Lenora Hamman, Harriet Francis, Agatha Heflin, Bernice Harvey, Leola Higgins, Helen Odegard, Jessie Burgess, Frances Littell, Mary Katahira, Cora Fritz, Ewing Irwin.
At the Files: Jane Russel, Karel Wegkamp, June Crowder.
At the Shelves: Virginia Chambers, Thelma Brown.
At the Phone: Maxine Cartright, Mrs. Kapek, Kenneth Huss, Florence Pike, Virginia Cunningham.

What would our pirate band do without a library? It has been said that the only thing that could keep a person, who has been cast upon a desert island from going insane, is a book or memories of books that one has read.

Nearly every pirate in the school seems to realize that this is true for they flock into the library in full force every day.

Mrs. Kapek, the librarian of John R. Rogers, needs a great deal of help to keep things going and to keep order, so she heads a large group of boys and girls in library work.

Each period students assist at the desk. The work is checking in and checking out books. The assistants for this work are: First period, Bernice Harvey and Virginia Cunningham; second, Karel Wegkamp; third, Agatha Heflin; fourth, Florence Pike; fifth, Mary Katahira; sixth, Jane Russell; seventh, Leola Higgins; first lunch, Harriet Francis.

Assistants work each period passing out attendance slips and checking the students in. The students occupying this work are: First period, Frances Littell; second, Maxine Cartwright and Ethel Bowmer; third period, Helen Odegard and Helen Renfro; fourth period, Jessie Burgess and Cora Fritz; fifth period, Harriet Francis; sixth period, Kenneth Huss and Ewing Irwin; seventh period, Lenora Hammond.

Two girls help each morning as pages shelving the books. They are Virginia Chambers and Doris Parker.

Two girls, Betty Russell and Dorothy Rouark, help Mrs. Kapek with dusting and cleaning up.

National Honor Society

First row: James Grant, Elizabeth Clarke, Mildred Helseth, Melva Harris, Elizabeth Northrop, Madonna Murphy, Blanche Cariveau, John Meck.
Second row: Grace Jacobs, Earl Bentz, Beth Noben, Mr. Jinnett, Jack Arthur, Adele Leonard, Lyle Stough, Margaret Olson.

Twice every year, outstanding members of the Pirate crew are elected to the Pirate "Guard of Honor." This society was organized in the spring of 1927 under the auspices of the Harding Debate club. It is sponsored by the Department or Secondary School Principles of the National Education Association and is the junior branch of the college organization, Phi Beta Kappa.

Admission into this guard is the highest honor that John R. Rogers has the power to bestow. Eligibility is based upon these qualities: Character, scholarship, leadership and service. Only those Pirates who are in their third or fourth year of service may gain membership. Recommendations for admittance are made by members of the faculty, from which the members are chosen.

An impressive ceremony is held every spring, at which the new members are initiated. This initiation is usually in the form of a banquet to which alumni members of the society are cordially invited.

Charter members of the society were: Dexter Bright, Verna Bundy, Ida Cahail, Oscar Kellgren, Sam Yancey, Thelma Johnston, Cecelia Stevenson, Harold Elsdon, Robert McPherson and Alene Sandstrom.

Panthers who were elected to the "Guard of Honor" during the year 1931 were: Earl Bentz, Blanche Cariveau, James Grant, Melva Harris, Mildred Helseth, John Meck and Beth Noben.

Spring pledges are: Hugh Allen, Louise Christianson, Della Katke, Frank Palmer, Lauretta Signorelli, Gladys Swartz, Elizabeth Baumgartner, Tom Meranda, Thelma Nelson, Virginia Penney, Francis McGrath, Edith Simpson and Jeanne Tuveson.

Orchestra

From left to right: Helen Anderson, Dorothy Hamaker, Jack McPhee, Pearl Wagner, Florence Stocking, Marjorie Joyner, Margaret Kelly, Howard Henry, Evelyn Hertel, Martha Miller, Don Philabaum, Thelma Harris, Fred Mildes, Harry Olin, Irene Bye, Helen Merchant, Gerda Eskeberg, LaVelle Bender, Avalon Bender, Ensworth Glayzer, Lytle Van Dusen, Betty June Johnson, Joy Hartlerode, Al Merchant, Darrell Dieter, Eleanor Mantello, Ernest Allaby, Dwight Goodwin, Roy Farmer, Don Ficca, Clarence Miller, Roy Webb, Wilma Wilson, Bill Emerson, Earl Case, David Altwater, Anna Marie Weber, Joyce Lyberger, Vernetta Engebretson, Carl Moberly, Chester Quorn.
Back row: Mr. Scott, Elizabeth Northrop, Jeanne Foster.

Far more essential than most people think, is the Pirate orchestra.

Very few people realize its worth until musical talent is needed for a play or convocation, then a wild dash is made for Mr. Scott's room and some crafty, awe-inspiring Pirate bows himself down before the instructor's feet and begs permission for the use of the orchestra.

At the all school play, operetta and every other conceivable kind of entertainment the orchestra is called into play.

Hundreds of Pirates were probably ushered into their high school careers by the orchestra.

This year the orchestra aided the Glee club in presenting "Belle of Barcelona." The Glee club has also spoken for the services of this organization for a light opera "H. M. S. Pinafore."

The orchestra has increased its membership since it was organized in 1925 so that two classes are now necessary to handle the entire group. The personnel of the class is as follows:

Ernest Allaby, violin; Helen Anderson, violin; Dave Altwater, trumpet; Avalon Bender, French horn; La Velle Bender, clarinet; Irene Bye, violin; Earl Case, trombone; Lytle Van Dusen, bass; Bill Emerson, drums; Vernetta Engebretson, trumpet; Gerda Eskeberg, violin; Roy Farmer, violin; Don Ficca, violin; Jean Foster, piano; Ensworth Glayzer, clarinet; Dwight Goodwin, drums; Dorothy Hamaker, violin; Thelma Harris, violin; Joy Hartlerode, saxophone; Howard Henry, violin; Evelyn Hertel, saxophone; Betty June Johnson, clarinet; Marjorie Joyner, violin; Margaret Kelly, violin; Joyce Lyberger, violin; Eleanor Mantello, violin; Al Merchant, bass; Fred Mildes, violin; Clarence Miller, drums; Martha Miller, violin; Carl Moberly, violin; Elizabeth Northrop, piano; Harry Olin, violin; Jack McPhee, violin; Don Phillabaum, saxophone; Chester Quorn, violin; Florence Stocking, violin; Pearl Wagner, violin; Roy Webb, violin; Ann Marie Weber, violin, Wilma Wilson, violin.

Panther Service Club

First row: Della Katke, Melva Harris, Jean Miller, Elizabeth Northrop, Laura Wold, Blanche Cariveau, Alice Travis, Marie Gilbery, Bill Kirschke, Dan Fleming, Cora Mead, Dorothy Huss, Virginia Cran, Lucille Moran, Laretta Signorelli.

Second row: Mel Ellis, Royer Bogeneif, Gladys Swartz, Al Kiefer, Nick Julian, Jim Penney, Ruth Qualls, Elsie Nielson, Adele Leonard, Agatha Heflin, Lyle Stough, Dean Leete, Joe Arnaldo, Mr. Colburn, sponsor.

Third row: Joe Renfro, Madonna Murphy, Bonde Tuveson, Louis Minnetti, Marjorie Jones, Elizabeth Clarke, Florence Pike, Jean Tuveson, Don Ficca, Madeline Curry, Mr. Jinnett, Helene Eaton, John Meek.

In 1927 a group of students organized a club to give honor to those students who perform services for the school for which they do not receive other recognition. It is an honorary service club. At the time of its organization, the Panther head was adopted as the club emblem. Since the school emblem has been changed to the Pirate, it is undecided as to what the emblem of this club shall be, but it will remain Panther until further notice.

Other members of the Panther Service club are: Blanche Cariveau, Virginia Cran, Elizabeth Clarke, Marjorie Jones, Margaret McClenehen, Angelo Corigliano, Nick Julian, Jim Penney, Rugg Weld, John Meek, Louis Erickson, Albert Kiefer, Roy

Farmer, Royer Bogenreif, Cora Mead, Genevieve Zinkgraf, Madeline Curry, Alice Travis, Lucille Moran, Florence Pike, Don Ficca, Elizabeth Northrop, Dan Fleming, Laretta Signorelli, Melva Harris, Jean Miller, Della Katke, Gladys Swartz, Marie Gilbery, Agatha Heflin, Helene Eaton, Ruth Qualls, Joe Arnaldo, Bill Kirschke, Lyle Stough, Dean Leete, Louis Minnetti and Melvin Ellis.

Mr. Jinnett and Mr. Coburn are the faculty sponsors of this club.

Quill and Scroll

First row: Jean Cochran, Patricia Haggart, Grace Estey, Jean Miller Margaret Roberts, Mary Katahira, Margaret Olson.

Second row: Melva Harris, Louis Minnette, Dorothy Huss, James Grant, Gladys Swartz, Hugh Allen, Virginia Cran.

Not only has this organization proved an important factor in instilling the desire for world peace in the hearts of the youth of the world, but it has also shown that the world is even more dependent upon the press than ever before. With all the members of the club intent upon the material supplied them by the Quill and Scroll magazines, articles about other countries, and press news, a thorough understanding is created between the youth of one country and that of another.

The Quill and Scroll was founded in the United States at Iowa City in April, 1926. It has its headquarters at Northwestern university in Evanston, Illinois. The organization has been international in its scope since the admittance of the Holt school in Liverpool, England.

In 1931 the society had 400 chapters with a total membership of 8000. One of the most interesting chapters is that recently organized in Cordova, Alaska. Another is that of Honolulu, Hawaii. One of the celebrated members of the organization is the 14-year old son or Premier Mussolini, Vittoria, who was the founder and editor of "La Renna Dei Ragazzi." Young Mussolini was granted honorary membership.

Rogers high school, Hillyard as it was then known, was the first school in Spokane to receive a charter from Quill and Scroll. The charter members chosen in 1927 were: Hazel Bundy, Verna Bundy, Ida CaHail, Dolores Crockett, Harold Elsdon, Alice Gibson, Thelma Johnston, Everett Jones, Robert McPherson, Francis Rosis and Cecelia Stevenson.

Qualifications for admittance are: honor rank scholastically, outstanding work in journalism or in business fields on journalistic publications, and the approval of the national secretary of the society.

Present members of the society are: Dorothy Huss, Virginia Cran, Margaret Olson, Hugh Allen, Mary Katahira, Jean Miller, Lyle Stough, Melva Harris, Louis Minnette, James Grant, Jean Cochran, Patricia Haggart, Grace Estey, Margaret Roberts and Gladys Swartz. Miss Olive Allen, faculty advisor of the "Treasure Chest," is also faculty advisor of this organization.

Spanish Club

First row: Maud Thorson, Frances Cowles, Evelyn Guay, Helen Carson, Laurretta Signorelli, Jeanne Tuveson, Ila Main, Emily Sutherland, Martha Miller.

Second row: Louis Minnetti, Dean Leete, Grace Jacobs, Dorothy Swanson, Irene Bell, Ione Gamble, Ardyce Davisson, Olene Summers, Elizabeth Baumgartner, Louise Christianson, Irene Bye.

Third row: Leonard Nelson, Don Sutherland, Mildred Helseth, Louise Picton, Opal Maxfield, Helen Colliton, Zelda Pritchard, Melva Harris, Betty Fugh, Mrs. Bovee.

Nine years ago the Spanish club was organized at Hillyard high school under the sponsorship of Mrs. Bovee. This year the club joined the International Spanish League. The sole aim of the International League is to try for a better understanding of peoples of other countries and to develop toward them a spirit of tolerance and good-will.

This semester the members of the club are wearing a pin with the emblem of the World League. Fifteen new members were taken into the club and initiated. To gain admittance to the club, a student must have had at least two semesters of Spanish to try out. The old members then vote on those who have turned out for the club.

An initiation party was held for the benefit of the new members of the first semester of 1931-1932. On George Washington's birthday, the members of the club were entertained at the home of Dorothy Swanson.

Members of the club are: Laurretta Signorelli, Alverna Albo, Elizabeth Baumgartner, Irene Bell, Anna Mae Brinkman, Irene Bye, Helen Carson, Helen Colliton, Madeline Curry, Evelyn Guay, Melva Harris, Jeanne Tuveson, Mildred Helseth, Ila Main, Opal Maxfield, Martha Miller, Louise Picton, Florence Poffenroth, Zelda Pritchard, Betty Pugh, Emily Sutherland, Olivia Stokke, Dorothy Swanson, Ethel Thorson.

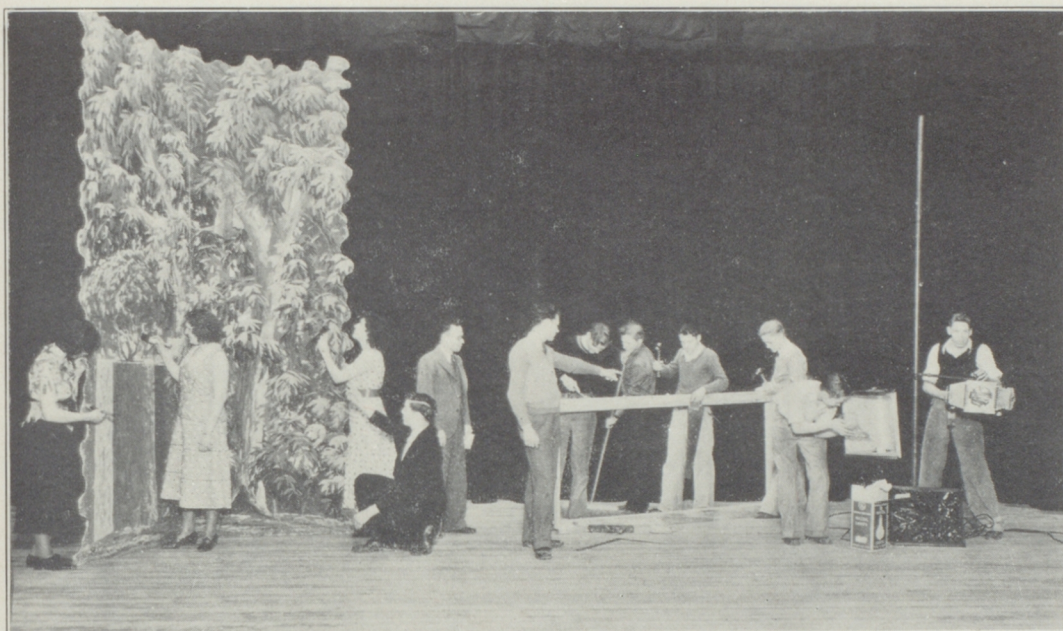

Officers of the club are:

President	Laurretta Signorelli
Vice President	Helen Carson
Secretary-Treasurer	Jean Tuveson
Reporter to Record	Melva Harris

New members elected this semester include: Frances Cowles, Daisy Anderson, Maude Thorson, Ione Gamble, Jessie Burgess, Ardyce Davisson, Leola Higgins, Chester Priano, Hugh Allen, Dean Leete, Don Sutherland, Don McCarthy, Louis Minette and Leonard Nelson.

As a highlite for the Treasure Chest, Bill Kirschke, stage manager, presents his stage crew of pirates to John R. Rogers high school.

As the orchestra concludes the "Hungarian Overture," a hush comes over the audience as the curtains part, under the skillful hands of Herbert Dailey, disclosing a perfect lighting effect created by Mel Ellis at the controls of the most modern switch board of all high schools in the city.

This illumination from 240 lights of 24,000 watts harmonizes perfectly with the scene set designed by chief artist, Chester Priano, and his assistant artists, Vivian Stewart, Winnifred Johnson and Rema Kaeck.

After the curtains close on Act I, the set is raised to the stage gridiron 32 feet above the stage floor, by Henry Freeman and Ernest Newman, working on a modern fly gallery. Assisting the play production is Jack Simonson, in the projection room, casting a 1,000 watt beam to the stage. At the rise of the second curtain, a thunder roar is heard in the distance, which is produced by Leonard Nelson, sound effects man, and his tin thunder sheet.

Representing the faculty in this work, is the director of dramatics, J. L. Purdy.

Student Council

First row: Louise Christianson, Melba Dearing, Thelma Nelson, Dorothy Nygren, James Grant, Edith Simpson, Hugh Allen, Dorothy Bates, Harriet Francis, Blanche Cariveau.
 Second row: Miss Finnegan, Chester Priano, Ed Bergen, Jack Whitney, Dan Fleming, Gene Whitney, Hal Jones, Royer Bogenreif, Mr. Byrne.
 Third row: Henry Berg, Louis Cameron, Roger Olin, Ewing Irwin, Francis McGrath, Gerda Eskeberg.

Among the great wonders of the Pirates medical world is the power to transmigrate the soul of a person so as to make an individual of today think that he is Napoleon or some other great person of the past.

But, far greater than that is the power that our own student council exercised when it transmigrated the soul of a slinking, cowardly, panther into a bold, brave pirate. This was accomplished by passing an ammendment to the school constitution by changing the school emblem from Panther to Pirate. This able council has also changed the name of the old "Hillyard Hi Times" to the "Rogers Record."

Each class elects a representative to this executive committee of the pirate crew. Officers of the Girls' League, Boys' Federation, and the editor of the Rogers Record, with the representatives of the classes, constitute the council. The president of the group is also president of the Associated Student Body.

The Council meets each Tuesday, in room 125, to discuss and decide the question of importance to the pirate crew. In their hands is the final decision of all matters concerning the student body. The faculty sponsors of the organization are Mr. Meyer, Miss Finnegan and Mr. Byrne.

For the first semester the officers were:

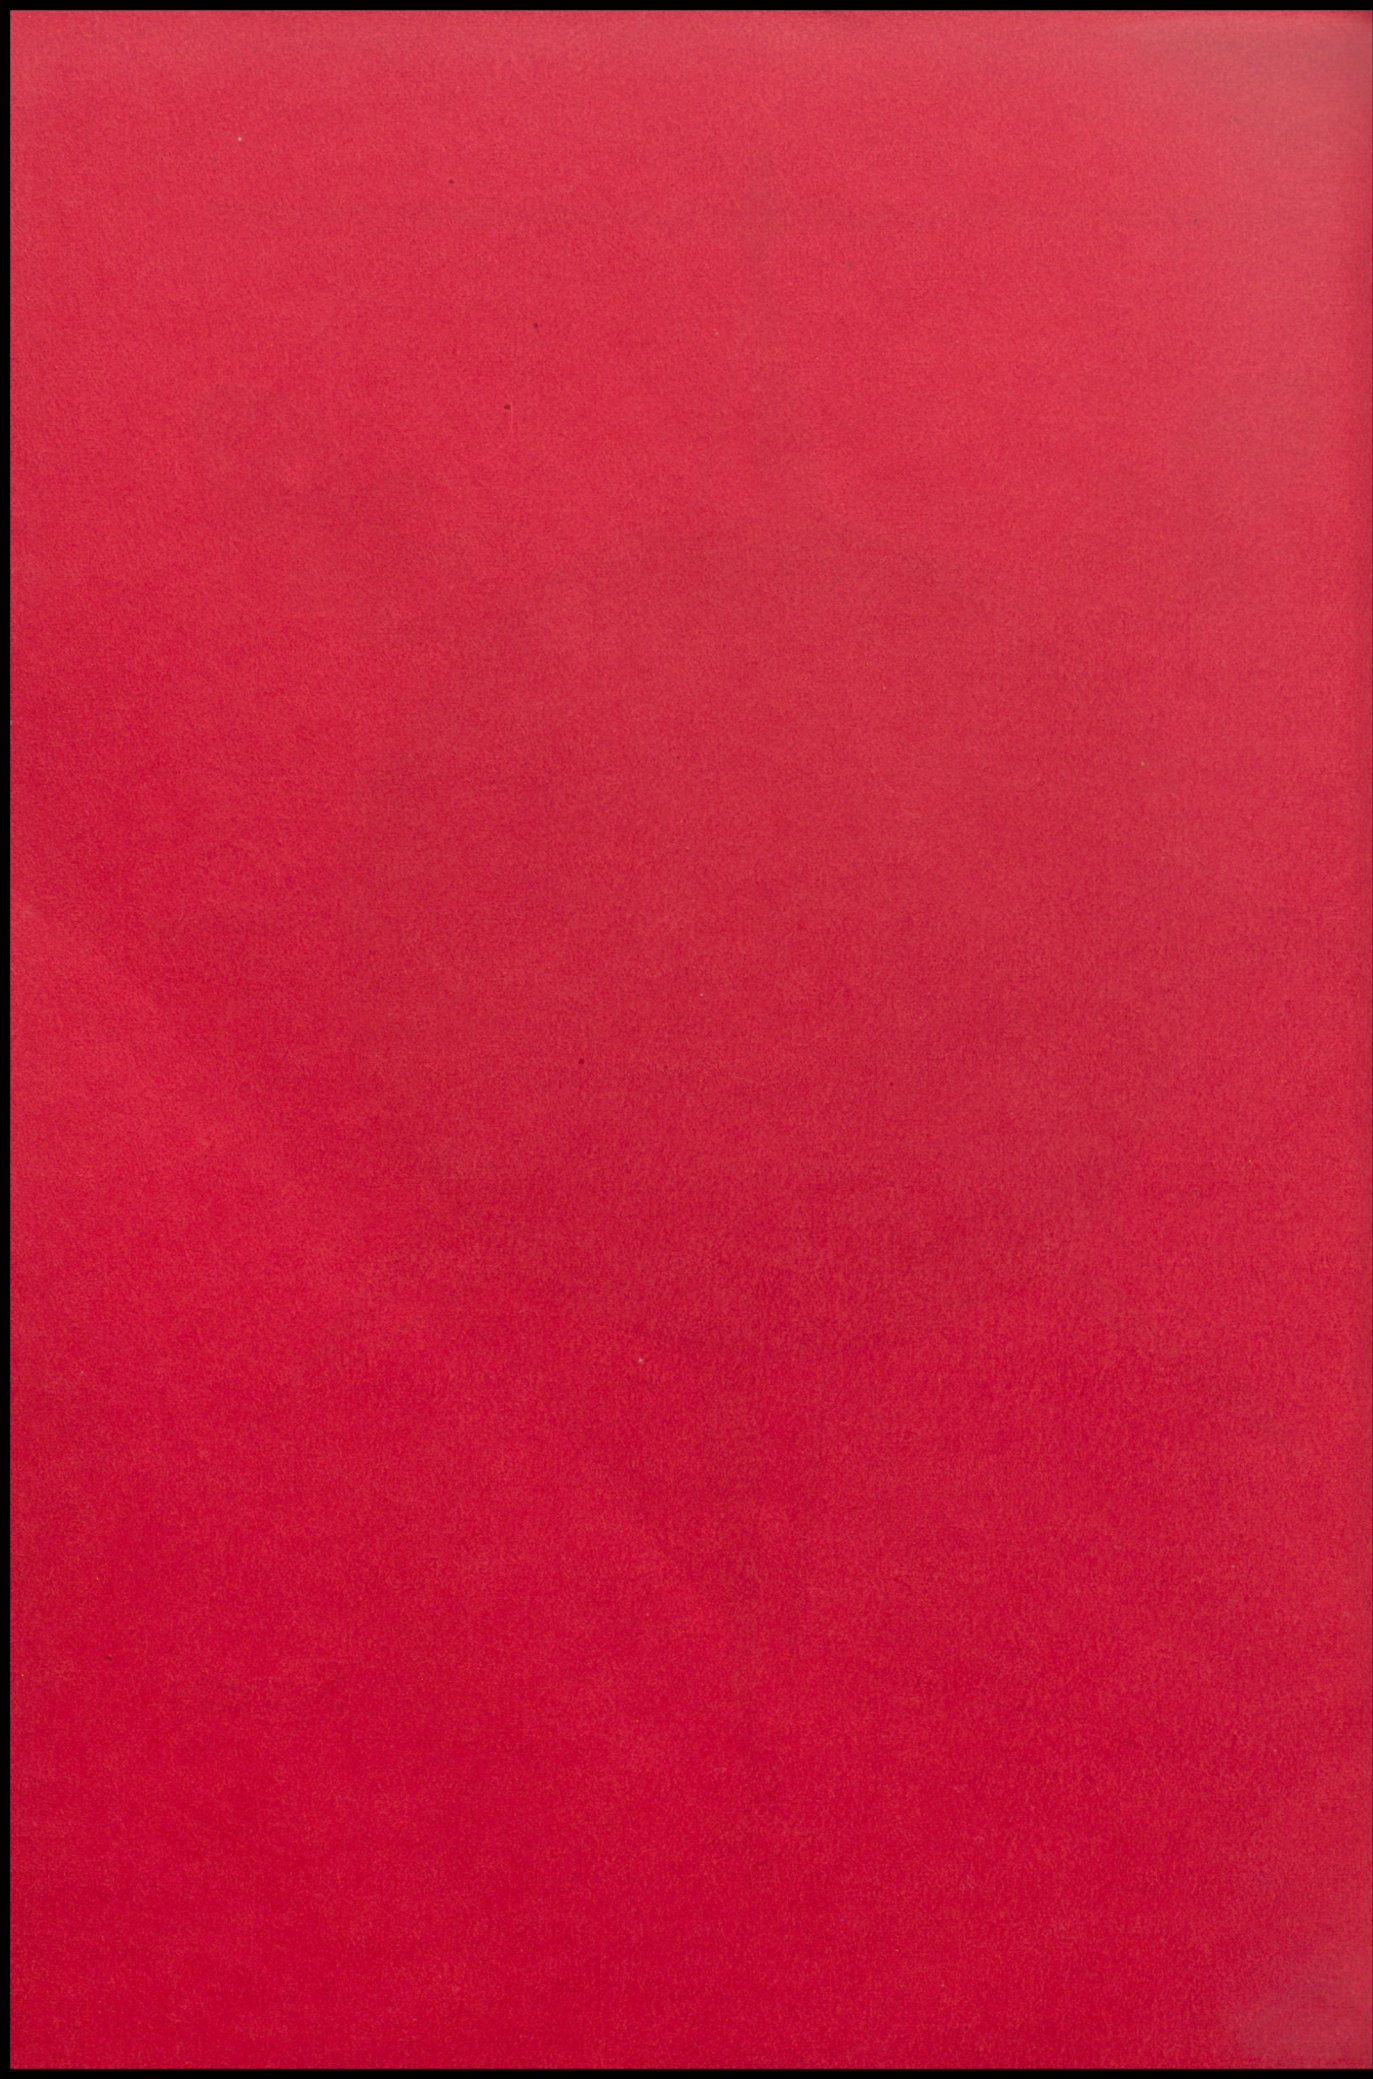

President	Blanche Cariveau
Vice President	Al Kiefer
Secretary	Elizabeth Northrop
Treasurer	Dorothy Nygren

Second semester officers are:

President	Hugh Allen
Vice President	James Grant
Secretary	Edith Simpson
Treasurer	Dorothy Nygren

Leslie Rider

"Les" Rider is gone.

With him went the hearts of our students.

As the last sounds of the bugle playing taps that December afternoon died away, an intense silence reigned over the school. Even those who had not known "Les" felt something of his spirit. America had lost one of its finest youths and those who had come into close contact with him realized that the school had lost an ideal student and a boy who spread sunshine and happiness wherever he went.

Leslie Rider needs no greater monument than the deep feeling held for him by every student of Rogers High. Although in our midst for but one short semester, his untimely death has left a place which cannot be filled. Those with whom he mingled in football and basketball knew him, not merely as a friend and fellow classmate, but as one who was ever willing to face the line in a true sportsman-like spirit; one who was able to "take it on the chin" and come back with his ever-ready grin.

On that has morning when word went around that "Les" was dead, scarcely a dry eye was to be seen. Not only was he an example of a true athlete, but, in him the very spirit of American youth was manifested.

Armonde Albo, a former student of Hillyard high, although never having come in contact with Leslie Rider, felt with the high school that Hillyard had lost one of its most loyal supporters and has written a poem to his memory, part of which is quoted.

He saved the day for the coach and school
That boy from Hillyard High,
For the Purple and White had won the fight,
And the band was marching by.
The coach went 'round to all the team
And called each boy by name,
He shook each hand and met each eye
For the boys played a wonderful game.

When the year was ended and his work was done,
The boy was ready to die;
He carved his name for the good of the game
And challenged all to try
To face the team he left so soon
With no warning sign or noise.
He left his mother, school, and friends
For a place with God to watch his boys.

"H" Club

First row: Jack McPhee, Joe Haygood, Dean Leete, Gene Whitney, Bob Russel, C. C. Quackenbush, athletic director; Gwendolyn Donnan, Hal Jones, Paul Gillingham, Ray Hulick, Albert Lemon, Earl Humphries, M. J. Benjamin, football coach.

Second row: Basketball coach, I. R. Minzel; Howard De Chenne, Royer Bogenreif, Frank Kapel, Harley Miller, Don Jones, Morris Clausen, James Mathers, John Tortorelli, Dan Fleming, John Stevenson, John Meck.

Third row: Donald Wallace, Bill Emerson, Joe Lamping, Albert Falkner, Vernal Moberly, Durwood Matlock, Jack Arthur, Frank Henry, Carl Sandstrom, Charles Hodgins, Robert Johnson, Harry Olin, Paul Stansbury, Lyle Stough.

Another club which has passed into history and is being replaced by another one similar to it is the "H" club. In January of this year the "H" was succeeded by the "R" which is the emblem of John R. Rogers.

The "H" club, or "R" club as it is now known, is composed of boys and girls who have won their monograms by competing in athletics. This group was first organized in 1923 under Coach Harry George. An official sweater has been adopted. The sweater is purple with a white stripe on the left arm for each year's service and an orange stripe for the captaincy. The girls sweaters are white with a purple stripe.

Every year the club has a convocation in which all the members take part and they have an outing, at some lake, near the end of the school year. This year they also had a skating party.

Second semester officers ("R" club)

President Hal Jones
Vice President Carl Sandstrom
Secretary and Treasurer Ray Hulick

Mr. Quackenbush is the club's advisor with coaches Minzel, Black, Benjamin and Saltz as his assistants.

Baseball

First row: Orville Merklin, Donald Wallace, Carl Sandstrom, Therman Cook, Bob Russell, Royer Bogenreif.

On the first day of the baseball season, forty-five aspirants turned out. Among them were seven lettermen, and the rest had to be broken in to fit the places vacant. Due to the last year's graduation, many positions were open to applicants.

The first call for candidates was on March 14, but, due to weather conditions, practice could not be held until March 22.

NORTH CENTRAL GAME

In their first city series game of the season, Rogers was defeated by the North Central Indians at Harmon field. A strong wind played havoc with the ball, and, as a result, many errors were chalked up for both sides. The final score resulted in North Central 9, Rogers 6.

A flash of mid-season baseball was displayed in the second inning when North Central had the bases full with one out. The next batter hit to Hal Jones, pitcher, who threw the ball home. Moberly, catcher, threw it to first base, retiring the side.

Harris, center fielder for the Pirates, connected for a three base hit to right field in the eighth inning for the longest hit of the game.

Batteries for Rogers: Jones, Russell, Moberly and Bogenreif. For North Central: Anderson, Godfrey and Chatterton.

Umpire: Dutch Altman.

FIRST GONZAGA GAME

In the first game of the three game series, Gonzaga defeated Rogers 13 to 8 at Harmon Field. Rogers got away to a five run lead at the start but home runs by Gonzaga and errors by Rogers gradually whittled this lead down.

Gies of Gonzaga got two home runs and Day, also of Gonzaga, got one.

Arnaldo of Rogers got a two bagger and a three bagger to lead Rogers.

FIRST LEWIS AND CLARK GAME

In a pouring rain that lasted throughout the game, Lewis and Clark pounded out a 15 to 8 victory over Rogers at the fairgrounds, April 21.

Newcomb led the attack for the Tigers with four hits out of six times at bat, and Whitney, Rogers right-fielder, and Russell, Rogers third baseman, each connected for the longest hit of the

Basketball

First row: Norman Noben, manager; Carl Sandstrom, Jack Arthur, Paul Stansbury, Billy Gorwell, Coach Minzel.

Second row: Lester Linden, Gene Whitney, Harley Miller, Hal Jones, Jimmy Mathers, Lyle Stough.

The last competitive sport to be held at the old Hillyard Hi was basketball, and the concluding season of this sport found more earnest competition and increased interest in the game.

As the last team to represent Hillyard and the first to represent John R. Rogers, a great responsibility rested upon this group of boys, and although they lost a number of their players in the middle of the season, they came through with flying colors.

This will be the first team to receive the "R" monogram of John R. Rogers.

FIRST NORTH CENTRAL GAME

In the first city series game of the season, Hillyard came from behind in the second half of the game to nose out the North Central Indians 14 to 10 at North Central, December 22.

The feature of the game was the feat of the Panthers in holding the Indians scoreless in the second half, all of their 10 points being made in the first half.

FIRST GONZAGA GAME

In their second city series game the Panthers ran afoul of the Gonzaga high quintet and lost a close 24 to 20 game at the Hillyard gym on January 7.

The game was fast and exciting throughout with Hillyard losing several chances to tie the score where many easy set up shots were missed.

Devlin led Gonzaga with eight points, while Harley Miller starred for Hillyard with eight also.

FIRST LEWIS AND CLARK

On January 13 the Panthers conquered the Lewis and Clark jinx when they trounced them 22 to 15 in the Hillyard gymnasium.

Hillyard led at the half 10 to 8 and they gradually lengthened this lead in the second half although Lewis and Clark tried hard to even the count.

Honsourtz with 5 points starred for the Tigers. Arthur collected 11 points for Hillyard to be the outstanding star of the day.

Personal score of team:

	F. G.	F. T.	P. F.	T. P.
Miller	16	7	13	39
Mathers	12	15	23	39
Stough	12	4	26	28
Arthur	19	9	20	27
D. Jones	7	5	5	19
Albo	6	1	8	13
Sandstrom	4	4	2	12
Stansbury	4	3	7	11
Betts	1	1	0	3

SECOND NORTH CENTRAL GAME

After leading all the way through the game till the last few seconds of play the Panthers were defeated by the Indians in the second game of their series, 19 to 18, at Hillyard on January 19.

Mathers was high point man for the Panthers while Misselhorn led the Indian attack.

SECOND LEWIS AND CLARK GAME

Clicking like a well-oiled machine, Lewis and Clark trimmed Hillyard to the tune of 37 to 11 at Lewis and Clark on January 25.

Lewis and Clark grabbed the lead from the opening whistle and gradually lengthened it during the game. Their plays were clicking and Hillyard was unable to stop the onslaught.

Geraghty was easily the star of the game, making 21 points for the Tigers. Mathers at guard made seven points for Hillyard.

THIRD GONZAGA GAME

In the last athletic contest for Hillyard High the Panthers sprang into action and squelched the Gonzaga quintet 21 to 17 on the home floor on January 28.

Jack Arthur, Tris Albo and Don Jones played their final game in high school competition. Don Jones and Lyle Stough made nine points each to lead the Panthers. Molitor made seven for Gonzaga.

THIRD NORTH CENTRAL GAME

In a slam bang affair that was anybody's game until the final gun, North Central nosed out John R. Rogers 21 to 20 at North Central on February 2. It was the third and deciding game of their own three game series.

With seven seconds to go and the score tied at 20 all, Stone of North Central was given a free shot which spelled disaster for the Panthers.

Mathers of Rogers with eight points and Jones of N. C. with six points were high point men.

FOURTH GONZAGA GAME

The Bullpups took the fourth game of the Gonzaga series by defeating Rogers 21 to 17 at Gonzaga on February 4.

The game was close; the first three quarters Gonzaga was never headed, but the Panthers tied them several times. In the fourth quarter Gonzaga ran wild, making 17 points.

Molitor starred for Gonzaga with 13 points while Stough led Rogers with five.

THIRD LEWIS AND CLARK GAME

In the first game played in the new Rogers gym, Lewis and Clark defeated Rogers 34 to 24. It was the third and deciding game of the series. It was also the last city game for the Pirates.

Sandstrom led the Pirate's attack with nine points, while Geraghty collected 14 points to lead the Tigers.

BASKETBALL BIOGRAPHIES

"TRIS" ALBO was graduated from the Regal grade school in 1928. He played basketball on the Frosh team, and on the varsity tennis team for three years. Basketball, one year, football, one year, and basbeall, one year, have claimed his attention in the athletic activity of the school since he entered.

JIMMY MATHERS came from the Regal grade school in 1930. He has played frosh basketball and football, and basketball and track on the varsity teams. Jimmy has two more years in which to represent his school in athletics.

JACK ARTHUR, a member of the varsity basketball team for several years, was graduated from the Bemiss school in 1928. He played frosh basketball from which he was advanced to the varsity team.

HARLEY MILLER, after entering from the Whitman grade school, played frosh basketball and has seen one year on the varsity basketball team. He also played two years on the varsity football and baseball teams.

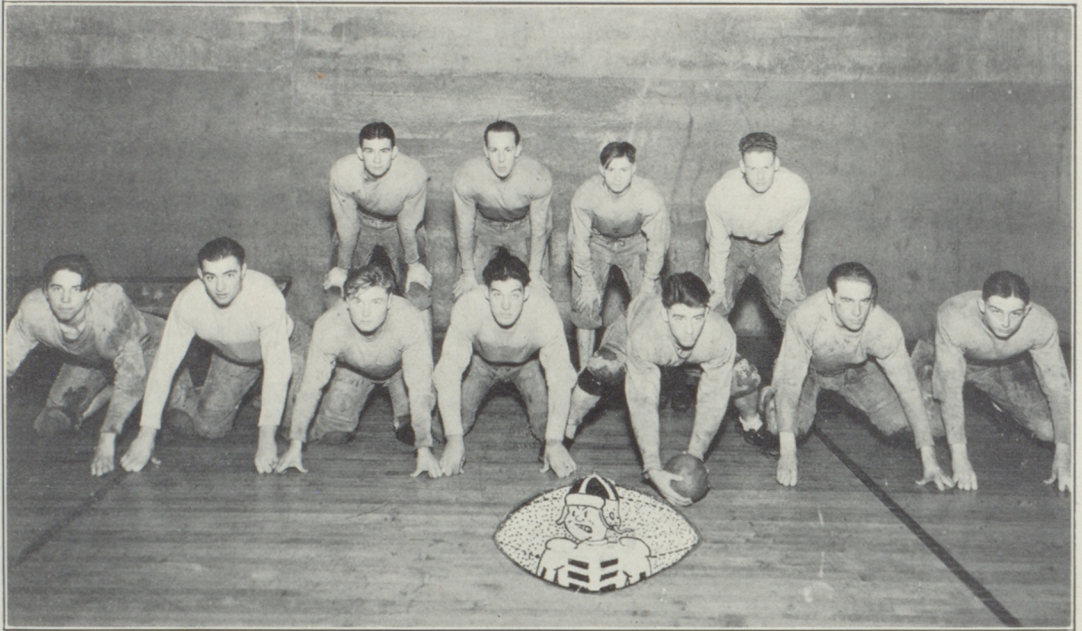

LYLE STOUGH, another graduate of the Regal school, has played basketball and football on the frosh teams. He has seen two years activity in track, on the varsity basketball team, and has played football on the varsity team.

"SPIKE" SANDSTROM came from the Arlington grade school in 1928. He played basketball on the frosh and varsity teams and has played football. He has also had two years of tennis on the varsity team.

DON JONES was graduated from St. Patrick's in 1928. He played football at Gonzaga and football and basketball at Hillyard after entering.

Football Team

Second row: Don Jones, Hal Jones, Leslie Rider, Wayne Harris.

When the call went out for football players at Hillyard high last fall, not a Pirate appeared on the scene. No, not one. Seventy-five Panthers swarmed on the field, but not a Pirate was to be seen. Now the Pirates have turned the tables and they reign with iron hand.

Pirates, Pirates, everywhere,
And Panthers out of sight
Pirates, Pirates, everywhere
And, oh, we feel their might.

Although the Panthers are no more, they covered themselves with glory when they made their last appearances on the football field.

The last Panthers to represent the school on the girdiron played the following games:

PULLMAN

Hillyard, now the John R. Rogers, defeated the Pullman high eleven, 7 to 0, at Harmon field. Hillyard's running attack was too much for the Greyhounds and had the Pullman boys baffled for the entire game.

Pullman's biggest threat came in the second quarter when they took the ball into the Hillyard territory. Hillyard came close to scoring several times in the last half, but the defense stiffened in time to stop them from scoring.

Hal Jones and Les Rider stood out for the Panther backfield while Haygood, Bogenreif and Tortorelli looked best for the line. Williams looked best for the Pullmanites.

WEST VALLEY

The Panthers took a hard blow when the journeyed to West Valley and came back with the little end of a 12 to 2 score. Both of the Eagles' touchdowns came from intercepted passes. Byron ran 85 yards to score and Anderson 50 yards. Both touchdowns were made in the first half.

Hillyard scored when Harley Miller touched Connel behind the Eagles' goal. The Panthers had seven first downs and West Valley had five. Hillyard completed three out of five passes while the Eagle's failed in three attempts.

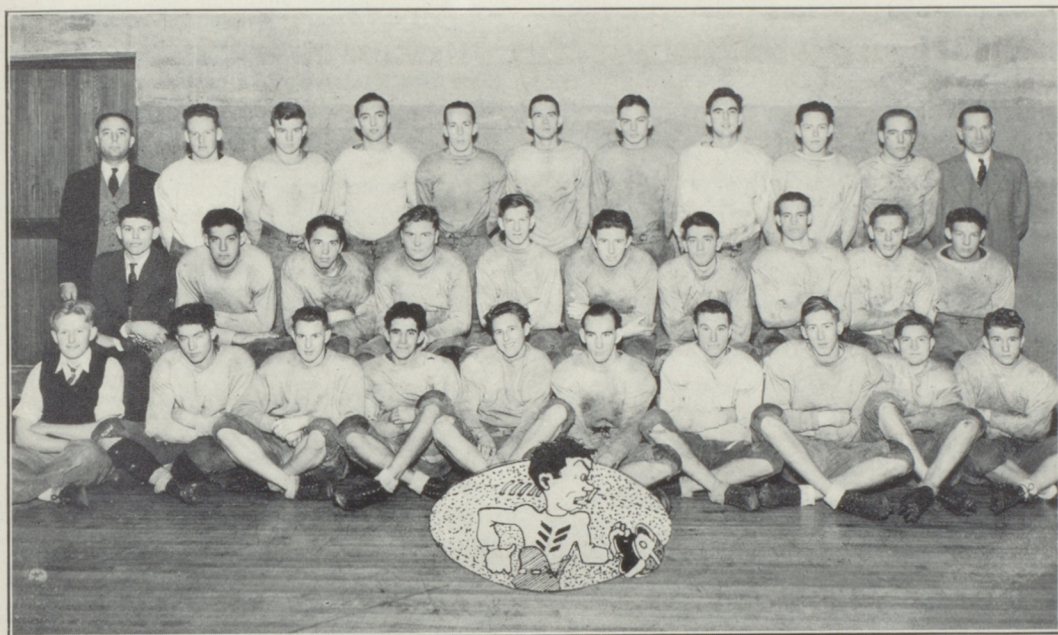

COLFAX

Having been defeated by West Valley, the Panthers were ready to tackle any kind of a job when they went to Colfax. It was a close, hard fought game. Neither team had much success on the ground, but the Panthers took to the air and proved themselves too much for the Colfax team. The first touchdown came when Stough grabbed a pass from Hal Jones and ran around left end to cross the goal. The try for point failed.

Hillyard's second touchdown was the big thrill of the game. Les Rider caught a punt on his own

Football Squad

First row: Harry Olin, Durwood Matlock, Carl Sandstrom, Paul Stansbury, James Mathers, Art Underwood, Orville Merklin, Billy Grace, Leslie Rider, Francis McGrath.

Second row: John Meck, John Tortorelli, Ray Hulick, Bob Russell, Gerald Miller, Frank Kapel, Royer Bogenreif, Joy Haygood, Lyle Stough, Bill Little.

Third row: Mr. Benjamin, Wayne Harris, Tom Meranda, Paul Ratsch, Hal Jones, Don Jones, Harley Miller, Bob Buckley, Gene Whitney, Morris Clausen, Mr. Black.

30-yard line and ran though a broken field to score.

Rider, Stough and Jones starred for the Panthers.

COEUR D' ALENE

On a muddy and rain soaked field Hillyard fought its way to a 20 to 7 victory over the Coeur d' Alene Vikings at Harmon field on November 7.

Hillyard scored first when Don Jones, Panther half, made a beautiful catch of a long pass to bring the ball to Coeur d' Alene's 10-yard line. Hal Jones carried it over from there. The try for point was good.

Coeur d' Alene scored against Hillyard in the second quarter when Riddle broke away for a 25 yard run to a touchdown. He converted and tied the score at seven all.

Another pass from Hal Jones to Rider and Don Jones brought the ball into scoring territory. Harris bucked the line for another touchdown and Hal Jones converted.

In the final quarter of the game Les Rider made a beautiful run to the 3-yard line. From there he took the ball over on an off-tackle play. The try for point failed.

LEWIS AND CLARK

In an exciting game, the Panthers came through to a fighting finish in the last two minutes of the game to defeat Lewis and Clark 6 to 2 at the Lewis and Clark playfield on October 12.

A safety was scored against Hillyard early in the first quarter and Lewis and Clark held on to the lead of two points until nearly the end of last quarter.

The entire first half was spent in Hillyard territory with the Panthers on the defense most of the time. The Tigers, however, could not penetrate beyond the 20-yard line. The tide turned in the second half and Lewis and Clark was hard put to defend its goal line. They intercepted enough passes to stop the Hillyard attack and punt out of danger.

Stough, Panther halfback, intercepted a pass in the second quarter on his own 8-yard line and ran 44 yards up the field before he was dragged down from behind.

In the last two minutes of the final quarter, Hal Jones dropped back and flipped a pass over the line to Don Jones who made a beautiful catch and ran across the goal for a touchdown.

Clausen and Bogenreif in the line and Hal and Don Jones in the backfield starred for Hillyard while Wasmuth, Bley and Perry worked well for the Tigers.

NORTH CENTRAL

Hillyard Panthers were defeated 13 to 7 in a hard fought game on the North Central playfield. However, due to a mix-up by officials during the closing seconds of the game when the Panthers crossed the goal for the second touchdown the score was not counted and the game was replayed at a later date. North Central's first touchdown came when Anderson, fullback, bucked the line after a series of plays which brought the ball down to the one yard line. The try for point failed. The Indian's second touchdown came in the same quarter when Tatman ran two yards on an off tackle play to score after getting the ball in scoring territory by a long pass from Anderson. The try for point was successful.

The Panther's touchdown came in the closing moments of the game when they staged a brilliant and spirited comeback. After catching a series of Hal Jones' passes, Don Jones caught a long 40 yard heave and went over for a touchdown.

Hillyard immediately took the ball within scoring distance again. With ten seconds to play, Hillyard called time out but the time keeper apparently did not see the signal, for he fired the final gun and spectators swarmed on to the field before the period was over.

It was ruled however that Hillyard should have one more play. On this play the Panthers scored but the officials ruled an offside penalty against Hillyard.

The team was allowed another play but because of the darkness the pass was not completed.

SECOND NORTH CENTRAL GAME

Before a wildly yelling mob of supporters from both schools, Hillyard emerged victorious when the Panthers and Indians tangled for the second time, with a score of 19 to 6.

The game was played at the Gonzaga stadium, November 12. As a result of this game Hillyard was tied with Gonzaga for first place in the city series.

The Panthers scored first when Demick, Indian half-back was caught on a fourth down on his own 19-yard line by Harley Miller, Hillyard end. Line bucks by Jones and Harris made a first down on the 8-yard line.

On the next play Hal Jones hurled a long pass into the waiting arms of Harley Miller who stood in the end zone and the score was 6 to 0 for Hillyard.

The try for point failed. North Central marched down the field from the kick-off and tied the score.

Hillyard scored again in the same quarter when they recovered an Indian fumble. Les Rider crossed North Central's goal line but officials ruled that the runner had stepped out of bounds on the 50-yard line. It was a beautiful run and brought the yelling, singing crowd to its feet in a frenzy of admiration.

Both teams fought with all their might and fought to the finish.

Anderson, Tatman, Demick and Peterson turned in a good game for the Indians.

Hal and Don Jones, Les Rider, Tortorelli, Ratsch and Miller were outstanding for Hillyard.

GONZAGA

Before one of the largest crowds ever to attend a game at Harmon field, Gonzaga high fought its way to a 6 to 0 victory over the Panthers on November 20.

The game was hard fought throughout, while mud and ice prevented any spectacular plays. Gonzaga scored its touchdown in the third quarter after a see-saw battle in the first half. A fumble by Hillyard on its own 30-yard line was recovered by Gonzaga. They slowly battered their way down the field and Koch went over on a quarterback sneak.

Hillyard's offense could not get going until the best part of the final period was over. An offside on Gonzaga gave Hillyard a first down on their own 14-yard line. A flat pass to Rider was caught and he ran to the 20-yard line before being tackled.

Hillyard's passes then began to click and a series of brilliant air plays from Hal Jones to Rider, Don Jones and Stough took the ball to Gonzaga's 8-yard line, where the Panthers failed to make a first down.

Tortorelli and Bogenreif were outstanding players in the line, while Harris worked well in the back field. Cain, Barry, McBreen and Koch showed up well for the Bullpups.

BIOGRAPHIES

MILTON BENJAMIN

Colorado School of Mines claims the distinction of being the alma mater of Milton J. Benjamin, pirate coach. While at the school Mr. Benjamin was active in football, baseball and basketball. After his college days were over this bold pirate ventured out upon the seas of coaching. His first position was at Granger high school where he coached his three favorite sports. He then came to Hillyard where he has coached for seven years. He is now with us in the new school. The same old coach with the same old spirit, but with a better prospect of future victories.

CARL C. QUACKENBUSH

Carl C. Quackenbush spent his college years at Carleton College in Minnesota. There he played for two years on the football team and for three years on the hockey team. He held the captaincy of college hockey team during his last year of playing. For two years he played professional basketball and then he went to Beach, North Dakota as a coach. His second position was in Waitsburg, Washington, where he stayed for two years. He then came to Hillyard and has coached football, basketball, track, hockey and golf. He is at this time the athletic director of the John R. Rogers high school.

J. W. BLACK

Another pirate coach is Jennings W. Black who received his training at Pennsylvania State college. While there he participated in boxing football and baseball. He has had experience in coaching at Colorado Springs, Colorado and Summer-ville, West Virginia. Since he has been at Hillyard he has coached football, boxing and baseball.

IRVING MINZEL

Irving Minzel, one of the newest coaches to be added to the staff, was active in wrestling, football and basketball while in Washington State College. He coached basketball and baseball at Wilbur high school. He is now coaching basketball and acting as assistant coach in football.

L. W. SALTZ

L. W. Saltz, tennis and freshman football coach, was educated at Montana State College and coached at Eureka, Montana, and Corvallis, Oregon. When he came to Hillyard he helped Mr. Quackenbush coach the varsity football team.

Nine grade schools have contributed to the Hillyard football team. They are: Bemiss, St. Patricks, Regal, Hamilton, Whitman, Cooper, Columbia, Longfellow and Frances Willard.

FOOTBALL TAEM

MAURICE CLAUSEN played football and basketball at North Central during his freshman year. He won his letter at Hillyard last year. He will play for John R. Rogers again next year.

DON JONES came to Hillyard from Gonzaga where he had earned his football letter. He made his letter in football and basketball at Hillyard and was on the second all-city team in football this year.

Baseball and football have been listed among the accomplishments of HAL JONES, all-city football player. He is captain of his team and will play for one more year. He plans to go to W. S. C. and his ambition is to be a great boxer.

Another boy who plans on going to W. S. C. is BOB RUSSEL who played tackle on the Hillyard team. He was on the freshman team during his first year and will be back again next year. His great ambition is to play tackle for the State College team.

HARLEY MILLER played on the freshman football and basketball teams. He now plays on the varsity basketball and football teams. He will be back again next year. His great ambition is to grow taller so he can make more baskets.

The greatest inspiration to the football team this year was ROYER BOGENREIF who played center. He placed on the second all-city team this season.

JOHN TORTORELLI is another all-city player who will be back next year. His ambition is to go to Notre Dame and follow the footsteps of Carideo.

RAY HULICK played end on the varsity team this year. As to his plans he simply says "Let nature take its course."

WAYNE HARRIS, fullback is one of the youngest players on the team. He has two more years to play.

PAUL RATSCH attended North Central during his freshman year and played on the frosh football and basketball team. He won his letter in football and track at Hillyard. He will be back next year.

day when he knocked a three-bagger into left field.

SECOND NORTH CENTRAL GAME

Rogers Pirate nine took a beating in their second game with North Central. Although the boys played well, luck seemed to be against them and the final score was 9 to 7 in favor of the Indians.

Cook of the losers got three hits out of five times at bat. Hal Jones, also of the losers succeeded in making a home run. Bafus starred for North Central.

SECOND LEWIS AND CLARK GAME

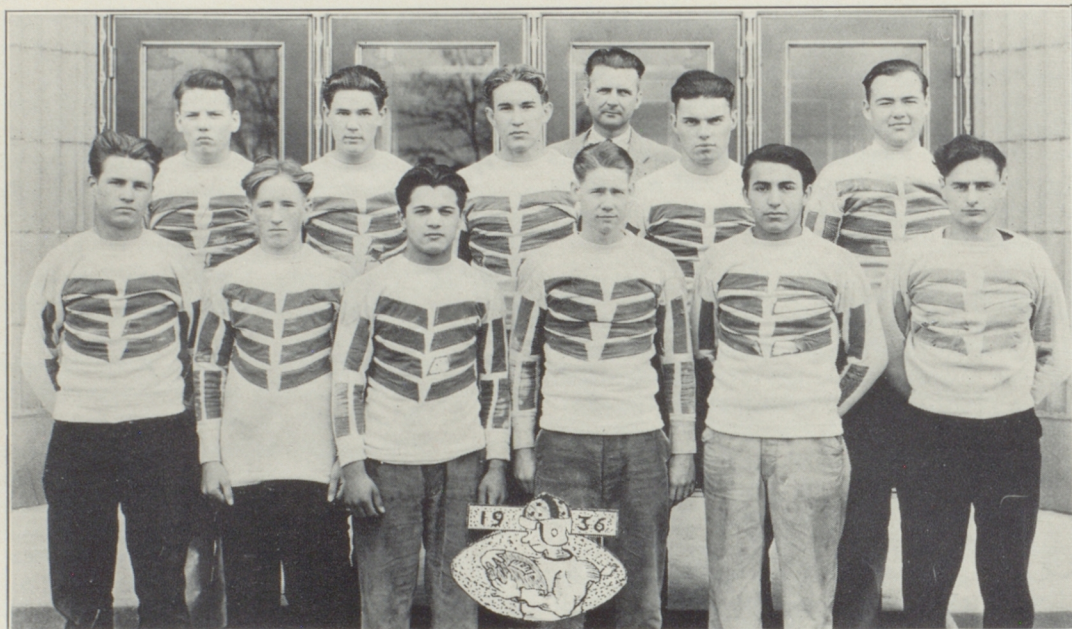

Rogers avenged their 15 to 8 defeat at the hands of the Lewis and Clark nine by trouncing them 9 to 5 in the second game of their series at Harmon Field.

Lewis and Clark got off to an early lead when they pushed across three runs in the first inning. Rogers hacked away at this lead and finally overtook them. Moberly of Rogers smashed out a three bagger to center field.

Well folks, spring is here. The grass is turning green and so is the Christmas jewelry.

Freshmen Football

First row: Clifton Nelson, Michael Shanks, Charles Tortorelli, Paul Ewing, Steve Tortorelli, Earl Douglas.

Panther kittens came out at the head of the pack in a successful football season. The boys were naturally green and inexperienced, but by the able direction of Mr. Saltz, freshman football coach, they were made into a good looking eleven.

Several of the players bid fair to hold varsity berths before many more seasons have arrived. The kittens started their season with a bang by defeating Central Valley second string by a score of 20 to 0. Ewing made a 65-yard run to score with Steele and Perry also crossing the goal. Two conversions were successful.

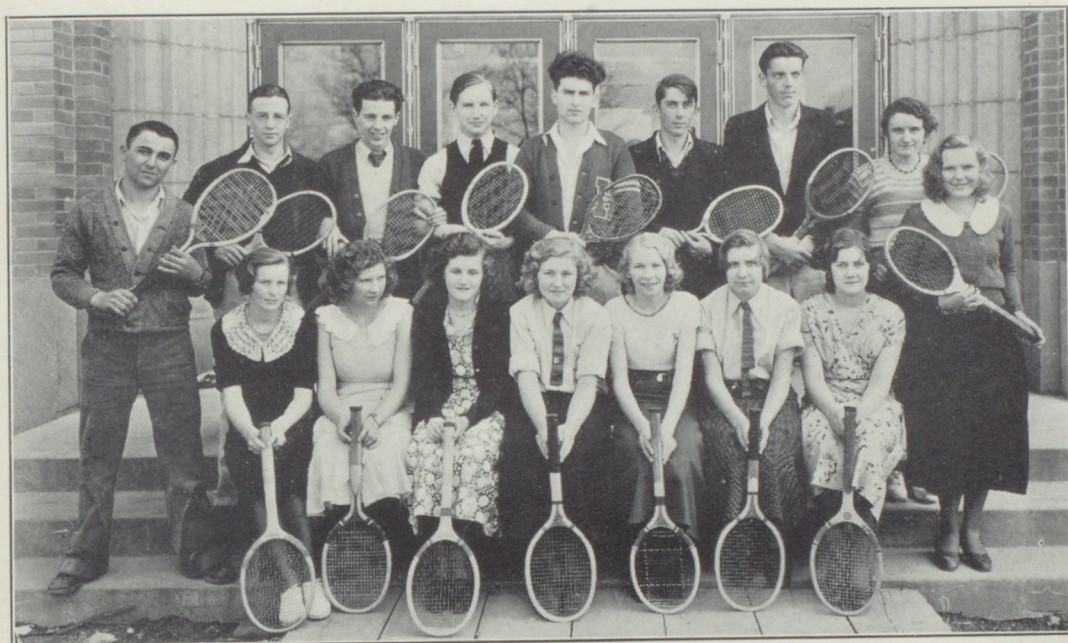

In an exciting contest the team defeated Lewis and Clark with a score of 6 to 0. Ewing made the lone takedown on a wide end run. The next game which our future varsity players engaged in was one with the Gonzaga freshmen. This game ended in a tie. Following the Gonzaga game, the kittens dropped a 6 to 0 game to North Central. The Hillyard lineup for the season was composed of the following:

Whitney, end; Jones, end; Taylor, tackle; Johnson, tackle; Judge, tackle; S. Tortorelli, guard; C. Tortorelli, guard; Walker, guard; Nelson, guard; Dean, center; Perry, quarter; Douglas, half; Steele, full; Ewing, half; Shanks, half.

Tennis

First row: Nick Julian, Marie Ramey, Mary Summers, Edith Miller, Ethel Haworth, Emma Stempel, Almeada Pyne, Gwen Donnan, Beth Noben.
Second row: Bob Jarvis, Bob Kipp, Sheldon Wilson, Bernard Gillingham, Adolph Bogenreif, Harry Nelson, Alverna Albo.

Among those turning out for tennis this year, there were only four who participated in last year's tennis tournament: Harry Nelson, Fred Betts, Bernard Gillingham, and Gwen Donnan. Twelve girls and nine boys tried out for places on the team. Under the direction of Mr. Saltz, the practices have been held daily at the Franklin park courts.

In the first game of the season, that on April 29 at Franklin park, Rogers defeated the Spokane University players 5-2. A summary of the game follows:

Singles

Kipp, R., defeated Nystuen, S. U., 6-4, 6-3.
Wright, S. U., defeated Betts, R., 6-2, 6-0.
Nelson, R., defeated Fairbanks, S. U., 6-2, 6-0.
Gillingham, R., defeated Thomas, S. U., 6-1, 6-1.
Shenefelt, S. U. defeated Bergman, R., 3-6, 6-3, 6-3.

Doubles

Jarvis, Nelson, R., defeated Fairbanks, Nystuen, S. U., 6-4, 7-1.

The results of the game with North Central are as follows: Singles

Betts, R., defeated Hone, N. C., 6-3, 6-4.

Gillingham, R., defeated Corbett, N. C., 6-1, 6-2.

Kipp, R., defeated Fox, N. C., 6-2, 6-4.

Bergman, R., lost to Jorgenson, N. C., 11-9, 4-6, 1-6.

Doubles:

Nelson, R., lost to Koehler, N. C., 0-6, 0-6.

Gillingham and Betts, R., defeated Koehler, and Hone, 4-6, 6-1, 6-4.

Kipp and Nelson, R., lost to Jorgenson and Fox, N. C., 4-6, 3-6.

With a score of 4 to 3, Lewis and Clark defeated Rogers tennis squad. The results of the tennis match with Lewis and Clark are as follows:

Doubles.

Betts and Gillingham defeated Paulsen and McDonald 6-2, 6-4.

Kipp and Bergman defeated Stuart and Doran 3-6, 6-4, 6-3.

Singles:

Gillingham defeated McDonald 6-3, 6-2.

Betts lost to Pearson 6-4, 0-6, 1-6.

Nelson lost to Wall 3-6, 3-6.

Bergman lost to Paulsen 3-6, 3-6.

Kipp lost to Anderson 1-6, 4-6.

Summary of the season: games won by contestants:

Track

First row: McGrath, McCarthy, Gray, Coleman, Berg, Mortenson, Murphy, Farmer, Chamberlain, Gilman, Templin, Doughas, West.

Second row: Conley, Ewing, Leete, Black, Lipps, Waldron, Miller, Weisleman, Little, Siebert, Ellis, Gregson.

Third row: Coach Quackenbush, Webster, Meranda, Stough, Emerson, Stansbury, Mathers, Schmidt, DeChenne, Lemon, Shonkweller, Wakeley, Ratsch, Linden,, Dean, Johnson, Murphy, Miller, Manoger Birdsong, Gorwell, Oster.

Many of the masculine members of the John R. Rogers student body turned out for track in answer to the call of coach Carl C. Quackenbush during the first art of April. The majority of these aspirants were young, green, inexperienced, but anxious to learn. Toward the close of the season some of them began to show some real stuff and bid fair to go to the state meet at Pullman in years to come.

A practice track meet started the season. It was held at Lewis and Clark with Rogers, West Valley, Lewis and Clark, and Deer Park competing. It was a cold, windy, day and nothing sensational was done but the coaches of the various squads got an insight on their prospects.

The score was as follows: Lewis and Clark, 76; Rogers, 33¼; West Valley, 20; Deer Park, 13¾.

PULLMAN MEET

The boys next traveled down to Pullman for a meet. Here they suffered a bad trouncing 81 2-3-35 1-3. However, several of the boys heretofore unnoticed, showed up remarkably well.

A summary of the meet follows:

Shot put—Kimble (P), first; Dickinson (P), second; Dean (JR) and Woods and Gass (P) tied for third—40 feet 10 inches.

100-yard dash—Street (P) first; Ewing (JR) second; Meranda and McGrath (JR), tied for third—10.8.

880-yard run—Neill (P), first; Stansbury (JR), second; Webster (JR), third—2:11.8.

440-yard dash—Gorwell (JR), first; Martinson (JR), second; Henry (P), third—57.9.

220-yard dash—Dickinson (P), first; Street (P), second; Neill (P), third—24.3.

120-yard high hurdles—Woods (P), first; Mathers (JR), second; Lemon (JR), third—17.6.

220-yard low hurdles—Woods (P), first; Street (P), second; Leete (JR), third—27.8.

Pole vault—Dickinson (P), first; Kimble (P) and Wakeley (JR) tied for second—10 feet.

Mile run—Stansbury (JR), first; Gillman (JR), second; Smith (P) third—4:58.2.

Javelin—Ratsch (JR), first; Dickinson (P), second; Webster (JR), third—132 feet 10 inches.

High jump—Street (P), Kimble (P), Dickinson (P), all tied for first at 5 feet 2 inches.

First row: Annette Dube, Vivian Olson, Irma McIntosh, Wilna McLaren, Elsa Beck, Virginia Cran, Cora Mead, Dorothy Huss, Lottie Abrams, Blanche Cariveau.
Second row: Miss Barger, Mary Wakely, Dorothy Swanson, Marjorie Jones, Marie Vermillion, Olivia Stokke, Eleanor Siekerman, Florence Van Dusen, Gerda Eskeberg, Olga Johnson.

She is much like a boy in her actions and looks,
Her mind's on athletics, not dresses and books,
And baseball's her hobby when she's not on a hike—
Really it's a crime she wasn't named "Mike."

She wears middy and trunk, and her hair is cut short
And whoopee! She's gone to join in the sport!
With the boys in the neighborhood she's a big bang,
For she knows all their stuff and uses their slang.

You might think her prideless in playing this part—
But there's something about her that goes straight to your heart,
For she's honest, upright, clever and true—
And she has ideas just as you do.

The Girl's Athletic club of John R. Rogers, founded in 1928 has enrolled, up to 1932, sixty five girls. The club sponsors girls athletic meets, hikes and various other forms of athletics.

The girls' spring program, for this year, has been an interesting one. On March 17, the club gave a St. Patrick's Day party for the G. A. C. of Lewis and Clark. The program consisted of a duet, a saxophone solo, a dance and a violin solo.

After a few friendly games, refreshments were served.

On March 12, twelve of the girls took a trip to Pullman where they met members of the different high schools of the Inland Empire in a regular play day. The group was accompanied by Miss Barger and Miss Fulton.

The girls who are now enrolled in the club are:
Lottie Abrams, Elsa Beck, Blanche Cariveau, Virginia Cran, Madeline Curry, Annette Dube, Gerda
Eskeberg, Dorothy Huss, Marjorie Jones, Olga
Johnson, Wilna McLaren, Irma McIntosh, Cora
Mead, Vivian Olson, Eleanor Siekerman, Olivia
Stokke, Dorothy Swanson, Florence Van Dusen, Marie Vermillion, Mary Wakely. Miss Barger is the advisor.

The first semester officers are:

President	Helen Haworth
Vice President	Virginia Cran
Secretary	Cora Mead
Treasurer	Charlotte Renstrom

Second semester:

President	Elsa Beck
Vice President	Marjorie Jones
Secretary	Virginia Cran
Treasurer	Olivia Stokke

Girls' Baseball

First row: Blanche Cariveau, Cora Mead, Dorothy Swanson, Elsa Beck, Marjorie Jones, Irma McIntosh, Marie Gilbery.

Second row: Lauretta Signorelli, Olivia Stokke, Miss Barger, coach; Eleanor Siekerman, Virginia Cran, Olga Johnson.

The 11A baseball team of the 1931 season battled its way to victory over the 10A's in a hard fought battle for school championship.

The 10A's began scoring from the first of the game, but the junior team was not to be defeated, and they soon settled down to honest work, and the score gradually increased until at the end of the fifth inning they were three points in the lead. The score at the end of the game was 14 to 11.

The sophomore team played an excellent series, losing only one game out of the seven. Mary Summers was the captain. She was backed by a lively team of eleven girls: Lotie Abrams, Almeada Pyne, Gerda Eskeberg, Mary McHarness, Annette Dube, Vivian Olson, Helen Cooper, Emma Stempel, Wilma Wilson, Rema Kaech and Vera McInnes.

Elsa Beck was the captain of the 11A girls. Her team consisted of the following: Olga Johnson, Cora Mead, Virginia Cran, Irma McIntosh, Marion Wendell, Blanche Cariveau, Marjorie Jones, Eleanor Siekerman, Olivia Stokke, Lauretta Signorelli, Dorothy Swanson, Madeline Curry and Marie Gilbery.

The scores of the interscholastic teams were as follows:

Team	Captain	Won	Lost
12A-12B	Mabel Smith	4	2
11A	Elsa Beck	6	0
11B	Genevieve Zinkgraf	1	5
10A	Mary Summers	5	1
10B	No definite Capt.	2	4
9A	Rosalind Glassow	2	4
9B	No definite Capt.	1	5

Girls' Basketball

First row: Evelyn Hertel, Almeada Pyne, Gerda Eskeberg.
Second row: Annette Dube, Helen Cooper, Rema Kaech, Emma Stempel, Vivian Olson.

For the 11A first team the basketball season was a victorious one. This quick, alert group of girls dribbled, made corner plays, and shot baskets enough to defeat every other team in the tournament.

Almeada Pyne, captain of the 11A 1 team, was present at every game to hand in her lineup, to help win the victories, and urge on her team. She was supported by an able team: Rema Kaech, Gerda Eskeberg, Evelyn Hertel, Emma Stempel, Vivian Olson, Annette Dube.

The only game lost by the 12A first team was that to the winning team. The final score was 10 Her team consisted of: Marie Gilbery, Florence to 6. Captain of this team was Virginia Cran.

Van Dusen, Blanche Cariveau, Cora Mead, Olga Johnson, Eleanor Siekerman and Elsa Beck.

Summary of the season:			Lost	Won
12A 1	Virginia Cran		1	10
12A 2	Dorothy Swanson		3	7
12B	Ethel Thorson		4	6
11A 1	Almeada Pyne		0	11
11A 2	Mary Summers		7	4
11B	Opal Maxfield		2	9
10A 1	Mildred Mercer		6	5
10A 2	Ardaya Davisson		8	3
10B 1	Maud Thorson		7	4
10B 2	Marjorie Hamaker		9	2

9A 2	Naomi Pershall		10	1

Girls' Volleyball

First row: Dot Cutler, Lois Babcock, Dorothy Nygren, Josephine Bruna, Virginia Jones, Margaret Olson.

Second row: Lucille Richter, Leota Brown, Opal Maxfield, Thelma Ellis, Mary Wakely, Evelyn Pogreba.

The sophomore A volleyball team came through the last girls' athletic tournament in the old Hillard Hi with flying colors. This was also the last girls' sport to be held under the name "Panthers."

This wide-awake team outwitted all opponents, and many thrilling afternoons were spent in the gymnasium watching the girls skillfully tip the ball over the net. The captain of the team was Josephine Bruna. Fourteen peppy girls composed the team which aided the captain in producing the championship group. These girls were: Leota Brown, Thelma Ellis, Lucille Richter, Virginia Jones, Marie Ramey, Dot Cutler, Margaret Olson, Opal Maxfield, Lois Babcock, Mary Wakely, Theda Trone, Evelyn Pogreba and Dorothy Nygren.

The Senior B team rated a close second in the interscholastic contest, losing only one game, and that to the winning team. All the games provided plenty of excitement for the spectators, many of the results being very close until the closing whistle.

Something of the football spirit prevailed this year, the games being played in halves of ten minutes each, with each team playing one half first and resting while the other teams played their first halves.

A summary of the season follows.

Team	Captain	Lost	Won
12A	Charlotte Renstrom	3	4
12B	Florence Van Dusen	1	6
11A	No captain	5	2
11B	Annette Dube	2	5
10A	Josephine Bruna	0	7
10B	Dorothy Freborg	5	2

1931-32

John R. Rogers High School

John R. Rogers, Spokane's new school building was built at a cost of half a million dollars to accommodate 1200 students. The campus covers fifteen acres out of which the school occupies a full block. It is a three-story fire proof building built of brick and steel with decorative front brick of variegated colors on the exterior. The interior furnishings are of oak. The heating plant is one of the best modern heating units, which evenly heats the whole school. The system is a vacuum steam system in which the steam is delivered to radiators in the various rooms and to ventilating units of the very latest type.

These units are so designed and equipped with dampers that when a thermostat in the various rooms indicate a 70 degree temperature, air is admitted to the outside for ventilation. This type of system takes into consideration the body heat given off by the pupils and therefore during the day when the sun has warmed the building slightly, it takes all the air from the outside without any way contacting the radiators in the ventilating unit, in this way preventing over heating which so often occurs in the older types of ventilating system. It is known the Her-Nelco system and practically each class room and the main auditorium and gymnasium have units of this type.

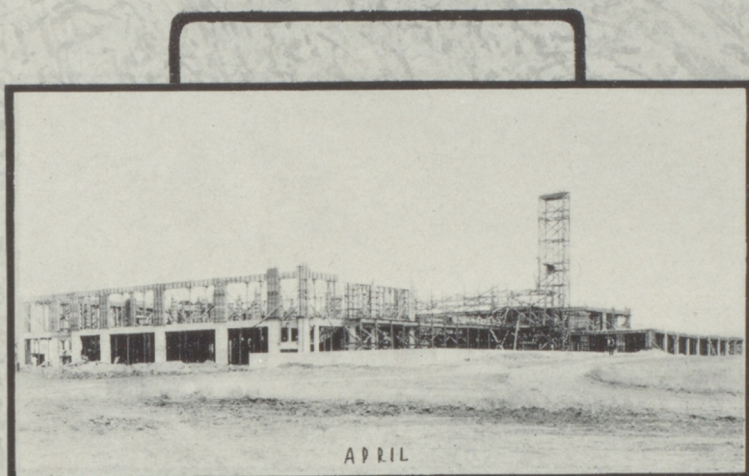

The main auditorium has a separate large exhaust which can be operated by the man in the boiler room by a push button, when a large crowd convenes here the temperature can be made very comfortable.

The chief difference of the Her-Nelco system and the ordinary ventilating system is that it never admits air from the outside accept when the room temperature is at 70 degrees. In this way there is a tremendous saving in fuel, because in the older methods of ventilating the air came from the outside continuously and had to be heated up to 70 degrees before it was admitted into the classroom. With this system it never takes air from the outside unless the room is too warm. Therefore, in the mornings and in the afternoons when the classes are not in session the air is always being recirculated as in the ordinary heating system.

The corridors are lined with cork to deaden noise and are connected with a well regulated ventilation system with direct and indirect registers. Lockers are built into the walls as well as the new type drinking fountains. Approximately 3000 yards of battle ship linoleum have been used in the corridors, the study hall and the library. Only Spokane made products and home labor were used in constructing the building. Each room is equipped with a telephone connected with the office, an electric clock, a public address system, and connections for a radio.

The cafeteria is situated on the first floor. It consists of four rooms, a kitchen, a closet, a teachers' lunch room, and a large students' lunch room. The kitchen is equipped with the following electrical conveniences; a dish-washer, a meat-grinder, a mixer, a slicer and a refrigerator.

The Rogers auditorium is quite the pride of the school. It is a large majestic room with a seating capacity of 1032. It has a high white beamed ceiling in which is installed an indirect lighting system that throws an amazing amount of light into the auditorium. The large projection room is equipped with colored lights and a projecting machine. The large roomy stage has two dressing rooms on the side, and a steel curtain at the back which, when rolled up, gives access to the back corridor, thus making room for a large cast.

Room 106 contains the Little Theater. This stage is quite large and has a piano used for entertainments. Behind the stage is a large room used for dressing and it is equipped with cases for storing orchestra instruments.

Journalists are very proud of the Record Office.

and health. One of the most unusual and interesting projects of the year was the pageant staged by Miss Bowman.

The Girls' League had a very busy year in 1928 under the direction of Mrs. Kapek. In the annual carnival they sponsored a cabaret, and in the spring a tea was given for the girls' mothers. Mrs. Kapek also chaperoned several students from the League and the Boys' Federation to the high school conference at Pullman. Miss Roberta Hood was sent as the Hillyard high school delegate to the state conference in Seattle.

In 1929 Miss Finnegan became the advisor of the Girls' League. Under her direction the departments and constitution of the League were reorganized.

A treasure chest and a follies were sponsored in the carnival of 1930 by the League. The system of electing the officers at mid-semester and the department chairmen at the beginning of the semester was started during this year. The custom of entertaining the senior girls at a tea was also established.

The annual Funne Fayre, given jointly by the Girls' League and Boys' Federation, was begun in 1931. In March of this year the council of the junior and senior high school of Spokane were entertained at a tea by the Hillyard high school League in the Hillyard Masonic Temple. Other events were the Junior and Senior Prom given in January, and the sports dance in June.

This year the annual Funne Fayre was given in February. A French cabaret idea was carried out, among several other numbers. A tea was given in May in honor of Mothers' day, and the senior girls were also entertained at a tea.

Every girl who enters high school automatically becomes a member of the Girls' League. The League is divided into four departments in order to make its work more effective. These are: Entertainment, Social Service, School Welfare, and Sports.

The officers for the first semester were: president, Blanche Cariveau, vice president, Louise Christianson; secretary, Edith Simpson; treasurer, Gerda Eskeberg.

Present officers are: President, Mildred Simpson; vice president, Edith Simpson; secretary, Helen Anderson; and treasurer, Martha Miller.

The faculty sponsors are: Entertainment, Miss Budwin; Social Service, Miss Herbert; School Welfare, Miss McMahan; Sports, Miss Barger.

ENTERTAINMENT DEPARTMENT

Furnishing entertainment for the Girls' League general meetings, the departmental meetings, all League affairs, and helping with school projects is the purpose of the Entertainment department of the Rogers Girls' League. Miss Budwin has been the faculty advisor for two years. Ruth Qualls was chairman of the department for the first semester, Helen Anderson and Maxine Cartwright for the second.

The department is divided into six groups, which cover all phases of entertaining, both in the home and in public. These subdivisions are: Singing, dancing, home-entertainment, dramatics, piano and instrumental. Each of these groups is headed by some girl who has had experience and training along this particular line.

Chairmen of the groups during the first semester were: Louise Christianson and Jeannette Valiquette, home-entertainment; Jean McConnell, piano; Lorraine Goodwin, dancing; Gerda Eskeberg and Maxine Cartwright, dramatics; Virginia Jones, singing; and Lucille Richter, instrumental. Lucille Gunn served as secretary during the first semester.

Second semester chairmen were: Bernice Nash, home-entertainment; Melba Dearing, piano; Thelma Harris, dancing; Carol Coffman, dramatics; Leota Brown, singing; and Irene Bye, instrumental. Lucille Bonner was the secretary during the second semester.

This year the Entertainment department has sponsored the program for the Big and Little Sister party, furnished numbers for general meetings, sponsored the Christmas program, and participated in the Funne Fayre, besides presenting numbers in departmental meetings.

SOCIAL SERVICE DEPARTMENT

The Social Service department of the Girls' League, whose duties lie chiefly in social welfare and philanthropic endeavors, is a very active one. It is divided into seven committees which are: Big sister, tutoring, sewing, program, tinfoil, poster and courtesy.

The big sister committee, which was under the direction of Melva Harris last semester and had Edith Simpson as chairman this semester, gave a party for all sisters, and helps to make them acquainted with the girls in the school. The big and little sister project is one of the most important in the League because it not only helps the new girls with the social and scholastic problems, but helps them to develop future talent.

The tutoring committee, under the direction of Marie Gilberry and Mildred Simpson, find tutors to help those who are having difficulty in subjects.

The sewing committee made quilts for the Washington Children's Home and the restroom. Harriet Francis was chairman the first semester and Elizabeth Baumgartner has been in charge this semester.

The courtesy committee, under the leadership of Virginia Cunningham and Helen Colliton, sent little notes of cheer to girls who were ill. The poster committee is for the purpose of making posters announcing the activities of the department. Chairmen of this committee are: Evelyn Pogreba and Ellen Denman.

To furnish programs for departmental meetings in the purpose of the program committee. Evelyn Meranda and Mildred Williams have been the chairmen of this group. Under the direction of Edith Halsey and Gladys Potter, the tinfoil committee collected tinfoil which was sent to the Shrine Hospital.

Miss Stevens, who has been the very able faculty advisor of the Social Service department for several years, was forced to resign last fall because of her unusually heavy schedule. The Girls' League was very fortunate in having Miss Herbert to take Miss Stevens' office of advisor. Jeanne Tuveson is chairman of the department this semester and Genevieve Zinkgraf was in

SCHOOL WELFARE DEPARTMENT

The work of the School Welfare department is very important. It is subdivided into various committees, each with its own particular line of work. These are: Office, restroom, honor roll, handkerchief, poster, program and stage.

From the office committee of the department are chosen the girls who work in Miss Finnegan's office. Another important group is the care of the restroom. The girls who are in charge of it work under the direction of Miss Robinson. Any girl who is tired, fatigued, or has just returned from a long illness, as well as underweights, and heart cases are reported to the restroom every day.

The honor roll committee takes charge of checking up activity points and making out the Girls' League Honor Roll. Josephine Bruna has been chairman of this group for the past two semesters. Girls who forgot their handkerchief may, upon the deposit of a penny, call upon the handkerchief box. Then the borrowed hanky must be laundered and returned. Daisy Anderson was chairman of this committee last semester, and Margaret Pierce has the care of it this semester.

The poster committee, whose duty it is to make posters for any Girls' League affair, was under Elaine Miller last semester, and is now under the direction of Virginia Chambers. The program committee, whose chairman last semester was Zella Hinshaw, and which is now under the direction of Ruth Qualls, supplies programs for departmental meetings.

Betty Pugh is chairman of the stage committee, which prepares the stage for Girls' League meeting and programs. Miss McMahan is the faculty sponsor of the department. Jean Tuveson was chairman during the first semester and Marjorie Jones is at the present time.

SPORTS AND HEALTH DEPARTMENT

This department of the Girls' League is a most active one. The primary purpose is to promote a greater interest in sports and health. To fulfill the aims of the department, it has been separated into six groups: Handy andy, poster, hiking, gym, office, costume and weighting and measuring committees.

The handy andy group checks roll for Miss Barger, gives out towels, and check showers and dressing rooms. They also collect lost gym clothes, and twice a year sell them. They have already contributed $25.75 to the Girls' League fund. Irma McIntosh was chairman during the first semester and Mildred Lewis is in charge at the present time. The January graduating class donated their gym clothes to the handy andy's sale of clothes.

Weighing and measuring was in charge of Bertha Wallace during the first semester and Ila Main the second. It is the duty of this group to weigh and measure every girl taking gym. The poster group is a committee formed for the purpose of announcing the various Sports department activities, by means of posters, to the girls. Its members are usually those who are interested in it. Vivian Stuart had charge of this group last semester, and Mary McHarness is the chairman this semester.

The restroom committee in this department has given way to the gym office committee. Every period of the day there is a girl in Miss Barger's office to help her. Rispa Ringo is the chairman of this committee, and Vivian Olson had charge of the restroom group last semester.

Hiking, as its name suggests, is a group formed of students interested in getting out in the open. Since so many girls are interested in this group, it is divided into two parts. Wilna McLaren was chairman the first semester with Marion Wendell, and Marion Hodgson in charge of the two groups.

This semester Marion Wendell is the general

ON SIGNING THE TREASURE CHEST

Haul out your cutlass—
Blood makes dandy ink!
Carve your name on my Treasure Chest!
(But don't say what you think!)

Write—"You swang a wicked fountain pen
To get the A's you drew!"
(It doesn't mater if it's so I'll make believe its true!)

Say—"You are such a clever darling,
You dress with clever swank"
Even though you'd like to say,
"I wish you'd walk the plank!"

Write—"You're the bloodiest pirate bold
That sailed in Roger's Crew"—
Flatter me if you possibly can
And I'll do the same for you.

Erl Douglas: Girls are prettier than men.
Ed Sandberg: Naturally.
Earl Douglas: No, artificially.

Junior: Did you ever take Chloroform?
Freshman: No, who teaches it?

"KNOWLEDGE IS POWER"

THE BOYS' FEDERATION

Hal Jones; secretary-treasurer, Francis McGrath; and sergeant-at-arms, Gene Whitney. Mr. Byrne is still the advisor.

The Boys' Federation at present contains the Boys' Federation council and the Fire Squad. The traffic squad and the hall patrol have been discontinued in the new school because there has been no necessity for them.

BOYS' FEDERATION COUNCIL

This department is the governing factor of the Boys' Federation, consisting of the same officers as the Federation and one boy representative from each class.

Officers and members for the first semester of 1931-32 were: President, Al Kiefer; vice president, Royer Bogenreif; secretary-treasurer, Lyle Stough; sergeant-at-arms, Robert Wakely; 12A, John Kelly; 12B, Hugh Allen; 11A, Harold Jones; 11B, Francis McGrath; 10A, Edward Johnson; 10B, Stanford White; 9A, Jack Dassow; 9B, Allen Stokke.

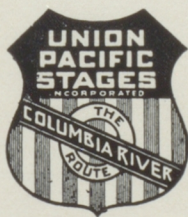

The officers for the first semester in John R. Rogers were: President, Royer Bogenreif; vice president, Harold Jones; secretary-treasurer, Francis McGrath; sergeant-at-arms, Gene Whitney; 12A, Lyle Stough; 12B, Gerald Miller; 11A, Francis McGrath; 11B, Rudy Volsholler; 10A, Harold Cox; 10B, Lex Templin; 9A, Art Charles; 9B, Frances Tripp.

Inquisitive Student: Have any of your childhood hopes been realized?

Mr. Quackenbush: Yes, When my mother used to pull my hair I wished I didn't have any.

Miss Curleycue read the papers so seldom that she thought the Chinese boycott was a bed for a Chinese boy to sleep on.

When life hands you a mighty clout
And you go down to hear the count,
That's the time to shale your head
And take a determined brace.
Remember that no hero ever lived
But to the ground did go—
Only to arise again
And go on better than before,
It's not the going down that matters;
It's the getting up
And holding on and going on.

—E. J. Dunn

“And now,” said the teacher, “will someone give us a sentence using the word ‘candor’?”

“Please, teacher,” said Willie. “My papa had a pretty stenographer, but after ma saw her he candor.”

Helen Miller: You know much more than I do.
Karl Peterson: Truer words were never said,
my dear.

Helen Miller: You know me and I know you.

Mr. Jones: Well, how are your grades this time, son?

Don Jones: Jules Verne.

Mr. Jones: How's that?

Don: Twenty thousand leagues under the sea.
